Only 20 of Point Graduates Going to Vietnam

WEST POINT, N.Y. (UPI) — The 1971 graduates of the U.S. Military Academy began their first full day as commissioned officers today, charged by Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird with assuming "military leadership in a peaceful world."

That statement was borne out, in part, by a breakdown of the geographic areas where the newly commissioned second lieutenants will be assigned following about a year of specialized training.

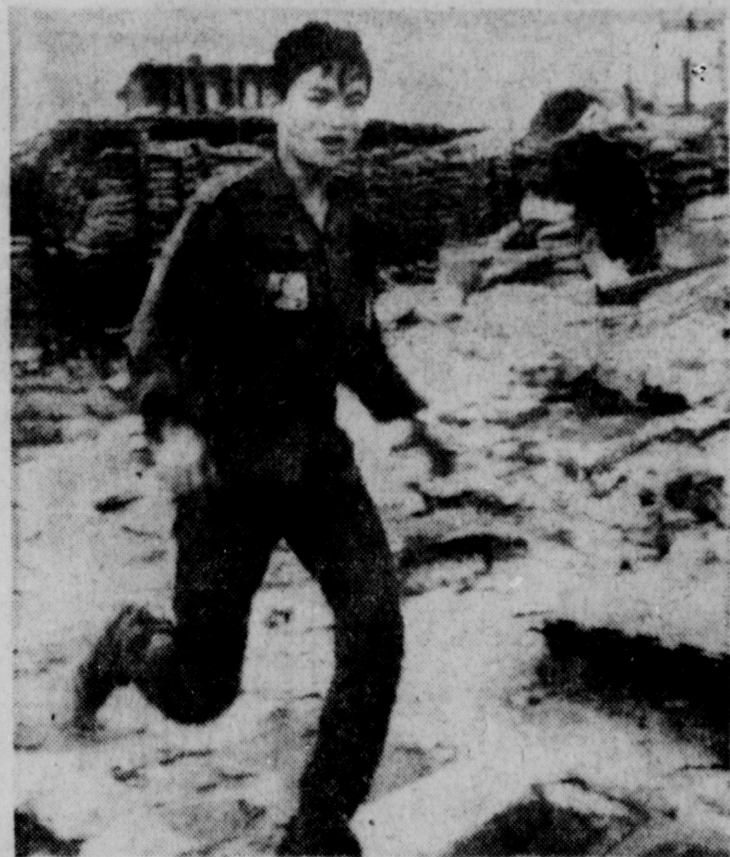

Only 20 of the 720 members of the Class of '71 are slated to go to Vietnam, compared to 174 members of the Class of '70. A crowd of about 11,000 persons, including the remainder of the Corps of Cadets, was seated in the west stands of Michie Stadium to see the 169th class graduate from the service academy on the banks of the Hudson River. The weather was bright and sunny and a brisk wind stirred the flags of the 50 states lining the stadium. The cadets, wearing their traditional gray tunics and white trousers, stood stiffly at attention as the National Anthem opened the 1½ hour ceremony.

HAPPINESS—Tears of joy are wiped from the face of Cadet Theodore Hoffman, of Mansfield, Pa., by girlfriend Patricia Galliher, following commencement ceremonies at the U.S. Military Academy. Hoffman graduated third in his class. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Lowest American War Toll in Six Years

COVER UP — A South Vietnamese soldier dashes for cover as mortar rounds fall at Fire Base Fuller. The base, a joint U.S.-ARVN site, has been hit with rocket and mortar fire every day since late May. (UPI RADIO- PHOTO)

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command reported today that 19 Americans died in combat in the Vietnam war last week. It was the lowest weekly toll in six years.

The command said another 19 American servicemen died from such nonhostile causes as accidents or illness, and 261 Americans were wounded in action, 32 more than the week before.

The battlefield death toll was the lowest since Oct. 17-23, 1965, when 14 Americans were reported killed.

Thursdays listed 48 Americans killed, 229 wounded and 16 dead from nonhostile causes during the week of May 23-29. But more than half of the dead were killed in a rocket attack the week before.

The count last week reflected both a generally low level of fighting involving the 250,000 American troops still in Vietnam and their decreasing combat role.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported a slight decrease in casualties last week among government forces, with 419 killed and 908 wounded, compared with 452 killed and 1,171 wounded a week earlier.

Senate Votes Ceiling on Draft

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved the first congressional limit on draft calls in 30 years—but put it safely above the number likely to be inducted.

The 67-11 vote Wednesday set the ceiling for the year starting July 1 at 130,000 men with the call up for fiscal 1973 limited to 140,000.

The Pentagon has estimated the draft for the next fiscal year at 114,000.

The action Wednesday, along with approval of two amendments dealing with drug addiction in the military cleared the way for today's start of a weeks debate on U.S. Indochina policy.

A vote is scheduled next Wednesday on the McGovern-Hatfield amendment to cut off funds for U.S. operations in Indochina by Dec. 31.

Indications are it will lose by a margin similar to last year's 55-39 vote.

Saugerties Paper Mill Faces Fine for Polluting

By ALBERT J. CAWEIN

SAUGERTIES Paper Mill, which processes paper with coating and dyes at its Saugerties plant, faces a maximum fine of $2,500 on its conviction Wednesday on charges it polluted the Esopus Creek. The creek runs into the Hudson River in this village.

Sentencing was set for Nov. 15 in Manhattan Federal Court, New York City Wednesday after Cantine President Joseph Crossi admitted that the company had polluted the Esopus Creek last August 21.

The local industry, which has provided jobs for hundreds of village residents for many years, was indicted Feb. 10 for violation of the Federal Refuse Act of 1899, barring waste disposal in navigable waters. The fine could range from $500 to $2,500.

The indictment charged that the firm introduced dyes and clay solids into the creek. Although the pollution is not considered a health hazard by local authorities, ecologists and conservationists have claimed that it is harmful to the fish and other marine life of the creek and river. The federal indictment contends that the company has a settling basin at the plant that is functioning, but due to excess surface water, the basin overflows and runs into the creek.

Cantine has two alternatives, according to Brinnier and Laros, consulting engineers. They can pay an increased fee to the village to eliminate the pollution through the village sewerage system or build its own pre-treatment unit with a sludge-holding tank. The latter would be less costly, the engineer's report observed. The report further noted that if the village constructed the pre-treatment and sludge-holding tank facility, the cost would be assessed to Cantine.

However, the company could construct the facility and introduce the resulting effluent into the village sewerage system. The sludge, mostly clay solids, collected in the holding tank would have to be carted away to a dump or landfill.

The engineering study revealed that the untreated effluent would result in 220 pounds of solids and 2,200 gallons of water daily and because of the nature of the solids, the village system could not efficiently handle the effluent. However, the treated effluent with the dye removed could be introduced into the village system without harmful results, the report concluded.

Red China Exports Announced by Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House announced today a broad range of America-made products that may be sold to mainland China, including automobiles, some industrial equipment, and most consumer goods.

Ending a 21-year embargo on trade to the Communist country, President Nixon made public the list of exports that U.S. industry may ship to Red China under a general license, meaning the products can be shipped without further approval from the government.

Nixon said the list includes the most farm, fish and forestry products, tobacco, fertilizers, coal, selected chemicals, rubber, textiles and some metals.

In addition, he said, agricultural, industrial and office equipment is included, as well as household appliances, electrical apparatus in general industrial or commercial use, some electronic and communications equipment, and some automobile equipment and consumer goods.

Nixon also decided to sweep aside a requirement that American business must obtain government permission to export wheat, flour and other grains to China, Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union.

This is the way the United States now handles exports considered to be of a strategic nature to the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe. In order to ship products not on the general license list, a U.S. exporter must make direct application to the Commerce Department.

The Chinese export list appeared to parallel closely a similar list on exports to the Soviet Union, which has been in existence for some time.

Nixon said products not listed on the general license list may be considered for specific licensing "consistent with the requirement of U.S. national security."

N. Dutchess Budgets Pass

RHINEBECK School officials and board members in both the Rhinebeck and Red Hook Central Districts could breathe a sigh of relief Wednesday night as both proposed 1971-72 district budgets passed by handsome margins.

In a closely contested seat-way race for one board seat in Red Hook, William Taylor defeated Mary Hoffman and Susan Van Kleek.

And in another race in Rhinebeck, made interesting by the late announcements of two write-in candidates, Elinor Letsche and Albert Vinck received voter approval with write-in candidates Dr. James McClenahan and former board president Robert W. Asher, also.

The statistics in Red Hook had the $3.3 million budget passed with 586 yes votes and 435 no. Business Manager Earl Friant termed this a "good margin these days, and acceptable any time."

The proposal to rent classroom space to BOCES, an annual item, was approved 735 to 270, and the district also received voter permission to purchase three new buses via a capital reserve fund for $42,870; the vote was 727 yes and 298 no.

Candidate tallies in Red Hook had Taylor polling 486 votes.

Mrs. Charles Hoffman polled second at 326 and Mrs. Baltus Van Kleek ran third with 245 votes.

In Rhinebeck, the budget received the largest margin of approval since District Principal Steeves has been there except for his first year, he told The Freeman, with 400 positive votes and 271 negative. It is up about $290,000 from last year.

Mrs. Letsche polled 370 votes, Vinck 344, Asher 245, and Dr. McClenahan 258.

The Rhinebeck district also received voter approval to re-approve a three-year transportation contract for bus service by a 513 to 131 margin. Voter approval is necessary for any contract to run larger than one year.

Favors New County Aged Plan

By LYNN MULVANEY

KINGSTON Non-profit membership corporations rather than county-owned facilities for the aged, are being proposed by Ulster County Legislator Ralph C. Brach (R-Dist. 9).

The proposal is being made in the form of a resolution which calls for the creation of a special committee for the aged to investigate the feasibility of establishing such corporations throughout the county.

Brach uses the Home for the Aged in Kingston as an example of a facility for the aged "which is practically self-supporting through the combining of the resources of its occupants."

Recalling that, "Two can live as cheaply as one" an expression used in the depression days Brach said young people of today are expanding this even further with their local communities." He suggests, "We can learn from them."

"Almost every elderly person is eligible for some social security payment today. With many, this payment is so small that with the inflationary costs of today, they are unable to maintain a decent level of living."

"By combining these social security payments and other resources of the individuals, the advantages of community living can be extended to everyone and these people could be adequately taken care of without their becoming a county charge."

Brach said that this applies to food, clothing, laundering, cooking, housekeeping and nursing.

He suggests that the County Legislature take the initiative to sponsor such homes throughout the county.

Brach explained that each home should be owned and operated by a non-profit membership corporation with a board of directors composed of local citizens and should not be county-owned or county-operated.

He suggested, however, that the county take the initiative to supply the legal services of establishing such a non-profit membership corporation.

Also, the county should contract with the non-profit membership corporations for the care of the elderly people who are ambulatory and he suggests that the cost should be considerably less than the cost of maintaining such persons in nursing homes or infirmaries.

Brach said he feels the care given the elderly in residences maintained by the non-profit corporations should be of the standard maintained by the Home for the Aged in Kingston.

He concluded that "anyone who visited both facilities will agree this is immeasurably better than the care provided in the County Home in New Paltz or in the county infirmaries."

Brach has invited any of the remaining 32 legislators to co-sponsor the resolution.

Major Headache Looming for Rockefeller

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — Governor Rockefeller says he is "deeply gratified" by the work of the 1971 legislature, but a major headache is looming because of the extensive budget-cutting done by the lawmakers.

Only six days from today, the Civil Service Employees Association has threatened to call a statewide strike of its 130,000 members to protest the firings of 8,300 co-workers.

The lay offs were a direct result of the legislature's most prominent action: whacking $756 million out of Rockefeller's proposed $8.4 billion budget.

In a "report card" on the session, Rockefeller said: "I am deeply gratified that virtually all of the major legislation I proposed . . . has been enacted into law."

He vowed to press again next year for his two major reversals at the hands of the Republican-controlled houses: No fault auto insurance and state control over power plant siting.

Rockefeller called the firings and state aid reductions the "most painful part" of the session.

The threatened strike, if successful, could affect state operations ranging from distributing unemployment and welfare checks and drivers licenses to workers at state mental hospitals.

It would be the most obvious and immediate effect of the just concluded session. But a variety of other affects are also being felt, from legislative action on the 16,000 bills introduced. Of the total, less than 1,500 passed and only 450 have been signed into law so far.

The most important affects, with some measures still awaiting the governor's signature, are:

— A new state agency, watered down from Rockefeller's proposal, will assume interim powers over Adirondack development as of Sept. 1.

— Stewart Airport near Newburgh will slowly be expanded into a major cargo terminal. Eventually, it may become a passenger airport.

— Construction will start on a high speed rail link to speed travelers from Penn Station to Kennedy Airport in 16 minutes.

— At a time of rising prices, persons receiving aid to dependent children checks in New York City areas are getting 10 per cent less than they did two months ago.

— Newcomers to the state will have to wait one year before applying for welfare.

— After June 30, anyone looking for an apartment in New York City will probably have to pay another $30-$150 a month, with the loss of rent control on vacated units.

— Liquor prices will go up a minimum of 12 per cent, effective July 3, in a move to protect small liquor stores from big discount competition.

— After Jan. 1, housewives will only be able to buy detergents with low phosphate levels.

— Parochial schools will begin sharing another $33 million in state aid this fall.

— On the tax side, everyone is already paying another penny on the dollar through the sales tax increase.

There were also areas where the lawmakers resisted change. Moves were rejected that would have narrowed the liberal abortion law, required "unit pricing" on consumer goods, given the harness tracks control of off-track betting upstate, and toughened requirements for obtaining guns.

The 1971 Session — Year of the Break

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — The 1971 session will be remembered as the year state legislature declared its independence from Governor Rockefeller.

The break between the legislative and executive branches of state government was led by Assembly Speaker Perry B. Duryea. The Long Island seafood millionaire, a leading GOP contender for governor in 1974, stood up to Rockefeller on more than one occasion during the session, and, on balance, came out the winner.

The speaker has no thought of challenging the governor's political power while he is still the state's chief executive. What Duryea wants to make clear is who is in the best position to succeed Rockefeller.

The shift of power from Rockefeller to Duryea resulted in a more conservative legislature. Nearly all the liberal proposals of the governor's were rejected as the legislature moved sharply to the right.

Rockefeller asked for liberalization of the marijuana laws, tighter gun control, a state department of criminal justice, no fault auto insurance, state control over the siting of power plants and compulsory health insurance, and got none of them. Although he campaigned on it last fall, he didn't dare ask for a $10 billion community development bond issue.

But, when Rockefeller proposed a welfare residency requirement and other welfare reform, he received quick approval from the legislature. In addition, the legislature was quick to add a 10 per cent cut in welfare benefits and a reduction in Medicaid.

Rockefeller's plans to create a strong state agency to run the Adirondack Forest Preserve and to make a fourth jetport of Stewart Air Field near Newburgh were watered down by the legislature before they were re-approved.

COULD MEAN FREEDOM — Edgar H. Smith Jr. (C) is led out of Federal Court in New York, N. J. after a three-judge panel in Philadelphia, Pa., continued until today a hearing on an appeal that could set him free for the first time in 14 years. Smith has spent the 14 years on death row in Trenton State Prison since his conviction for the 1957 bludgeoning murder of Victoria Zielinsky. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Wall Street Thieves Still Flourishing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Armed convoys of postal guards have all but eliminated massive security thefts at U.S. airports but organized crime still profits enormously from steal-to-order thieves on Wall Street, the Senate rackets committee has been told.

J. W. Cotter, chief U.S. postal inspector, testified Wednesday claims for stolen securities, jewels, travelers check and other valuable had reached $76 million before hundreds of arrests and tightened security nearly ended the theft of registered mail pouches.

Murray J. Gross, an assistant district attorney for Manhattan said earlier only the abolishment of stock certificates themselves could end a free-for-all of crime on Wall Street.

"Everybody is stealing," Gross said. "The brokerage house messengers, the clerk, even the supervisory personnel. "This thing mushroomed very quickly, Gross said. It's a new kind of crime. Everybody was slow to respond."

Now, Gross said, it may be too late.

He said some banks and minor stock houses are believed infiltrated by organized criminal elements may be pipelines for stolen stocks and bonds. And, he added, some stock brokerage firms may have been created by a crime syndicate solely to carry out corrupt schemes.

There are strong indications as well, he went on, that counterfeiters are moving in on the action.

Dan Berrigan Comfortable

DANBURY, Conn. (AP) — The Rev. Daniel Berrigan, the imprisoned antiwar priest, was taken from a federal prison to Danbury Hospital Wednesday, prison officials said.

He was reported resting comfortably today.

Warden John J. Norton said the Roman Catholic priest suffered "a spell" about noon while "undergoing routine dental treatment" at the federal correctional institute.

A spokesman for the hospital said, "Father Daniel Berrigan has been admitted to Danbury Hospital for observation. According to his physician he is resting comfortably but it is too early to make a diagnosis."

Berrigan was imprisoned along with his brother, the Rev. Philip Berrigan, for destroying draft records in Catonsville, Md.

Norton said in a statement that Daniel Berrigan "underwent an episode of severe difficulty in breathing and a rapid heart rate."

Philip Berrigan is one of eight persons indicted in the alleged conspiracy to kidnap presidential adviser Henry Kissinger, to blow up heating tunnels under several government buildings in Washington, and to destroy draft records.

Daniel Berrigan was not indicted in that case but was alleged to be a coconspirator.

What You Can Do About Dangerous Drugs

The Narcotics Problem--And Taking Action

(Eighth in Series)
By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
"If you are not part of the solution, you are part of the problem."

Citing that saying, the National Center for Youth Outreach Workers in Chicago is doing what its name implies — seeking more effective ways of helping youngsters in or near trouble from drugs or other cause.

Founded by the National Board of the YMCA, Youth Outreach is recruiting and training youth workers who focus not upon a building but the neighborhood — in city, suburb or rural area — where the youths are, and enlist the support of all community agencies and resources. It stresses correction of causes of youthful difficulties.

It is one example of increasing action programs now to prevent tragedy from problems such as drug abuse, or to help those who have fallen into trouble. Your own community has or could have some of these same resources.

Like flowers blossoming in spring, "hotlines" and crash pads and drop-in centers and free clinics have sprouted over the nation. They are mostly self-help units run by young people from teen-age up. Some have backup support from professionals in medicine, education and social agencies, churches, and service clubs. Some have the cooperative understanding of legal authorities. Other centers or facilities are harassed by local authorities in the suspicion sometimes that "hippies" are up to no good.

In New Haven, Conn., a private project called Number 9 is an easy-going, informal "youth crisis intervention center" run by young people. It's a storefront where youngsters can "rap" or talk about what interests or bothers them; it has a crash pad for drug users to sleep in emergencies, and an arts lab for painting and working with clay, leather or other materials.

"Basically, we've found that kids have an intuitive sense of how to help other kids," says Ted Clark who at 26 was a co-founder of Number 9, so named from a Beatles song, "Revolution Number 9." "As examples of institutions for the young, self-help programs have implications for the primary prevention of drug abuse that may be more profound than any other effort, including the expenditure of millions of dollars on drug education curricula in schools," says Dr. Matthew Dumont, assistant commissioner for drug rehabilitation in Massachusetts. These programs are informal, readily accessible, not concerned with protocol, and their focus is on health and immediate needs, he points out. Youngsters use "hotlines" not just to discuss drug problems, but other matters bothering them. And adults sometimes tune in, also, to learn from youths what they think the real problems are, or what the solutions might be, or what should be done.

Skipping across the country, one finds these among a wide variety of action programs in education or treatment of drug problems:

In Washington, D.C., the Black Man's Development Center, seeking to wean addicts off heroin and also the substitute drug, methadone, and to train them for jobs . . . In Phoenix, Ariz., an integrated approach — CODAC, standing for Community Organization for Drug Abuse Control — including a "hotline," a round-the-clock emergency center for help without fear of arrest, high school students explaining drug perils to still younger students, and an educational and talk-out program for parents.

In New York, Encounter seeks to prevent youths from graduating from soft or mild drugs to the hard drugs . . .

needed since reasons for drug addiction vary. For helpful information on drugs and drug programs, there are the National Clearinghouse for Drug Abuse Information at Dayton Village, Odysseus House, the National Institute of Mental Health, Phoenix House, Halfway House, Rockville, Md.; the Houses, Datori, to help heroin addicts quit through on Drug Abuse Education and live-in or out-patient facilities or Information, Inc., Washington, other programs offering D. C., and the Bureau of psychotherapy, methadone, or Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs, also in Washington.

Mass Gathering Law

Widely Divergent Views in Rhinebeck

RHINEBECK be changed to read simply "any gathering of more than 2,500 people."

Several high school aged youths disputed what was termed an "arbitrary" figure of 2,500, which was explained by Town Attorney Carl Ulrich to be half of the figure 5,000 contained in the state law which had been adopted by the county.

Resident Robert Love suggested that the necessity of obtaining a permit be abolished on the grounds he contended it would make the town party to any lawsuit brought against promoters. He also expressed dismay over the wording specifically naming music festivals, calling it a "target for legal challenge."

Student Raymond Gmeiner asked why there was "paranoia" about rock festivals and suggested a higher figure of perhaps 50,000. It was explained that there was no ceiling on the size of a gathering, but that 2,500 was the point where the regulations would take effect.

One unidentified resident went along with the proposal "100 per cent" because it "is designed to protect property."

And later, during the regular meeting, Village Mayor Peter F. Sipperley expressed his opinion that he is in "wholehearted" support, adding that he does not care if it does discriminate.

During the regular board session, it was noted that the special referendum on whether or not to retain the three-man board of assessors will be held from 2-8 p.m. at the Rhinecliff Firehouse.

It was resolved by a 3-2 vote not to approve the SPCA's offer for a dog control contract, as it was felt the cost was out of line and there would be no guarantee that the organization would take dogs.

Supervisor William Allen said that he had been in contact with several people about starting an inter-town shelter, with the Town of Red Hook also interested in this idea.

Allen declared June 20-26 official Hillside Fire Company Week, as the company is celebrating its 40th year June 20 with a dinner-dance and open house. Hillside is one of three companies serving Rhinebeck.

A resolution was passed to use the $1,600 earmarked for the now defunct Hometown Beautification Program to beautify town property through the hiring of one or two local boys.

Councilman Louis Asher mentioned a joint town-village Recreation Commission meeting this coming Monday to set up plans for next year.

And Allen said that the boat ramp at the ferry-dock site is being worked on. It is now possible to launch boats at low tide.

Much griping was heard from board members when it was learned that a mistake in the state would result in the town having to pay an additional $2,500 for state retirement for employees.

Judge Herman Tietjen said that the town had to pay for the state's mistake, and he urged recommendation to legislators to amend laws allowing reimbursement to towns for state miscalculations.

Michael Junior High School were presented with the Parents Teachers Students Organization "outstanding citizenship award" for exemplary conduct and performance. Each also received a cash award. (Freeman photo by Kruh).

Buy Up the Land Advice to Boards

Ulster County town and village boards were advised Wednesday to find money to buy up land for open space.

Richard Boos, design expert with the State Planning Department, addressing a large group of local planners, government officials and zoning board members at the Holiday Inn, said housing developments are changing in character and he advised clustering buildings to provide open space in surrounding areas.

He suggested the planners to protect watershed areas and flood plains and preserve unique properties and prime agricultural lands as linkage areas between developments.

Boos said the cluster concept is more economical and is achieved by placing houses closer together with spaces in the centers of clusters or adjoining them. These areas can be used as parks, playground areas or as natural settings to be enjoyed, he said.

Open space is often overlooked by persons in open space areas until development creeps in and it is too late, Boos said. Therefore he advises local governments to purchase lands now that can be preserved as development develops. He asked that minimum standards be set on such things as street widths, lot layouts and other land improvements.

Sheldon Damsky, a lawyer for the state, spoke concerning the legal problems in connection with open space subdivisions and mobile homes.

Harry Edinger, Ulster County environmental sanitary engineer, spoke on the topic "Where We Came From" in terms of basic facilities and Herbert Hekler, Ulster County planning director discussed water and sewer problems in the county.

The workshop was sponsored by the Ulster County Planning Board and concluded with a luncheon during which there was a question and answer period.

About 40 persons attended the seminar including town supervisors, mayors, planning and zoning board members and town and county officials.

Parker Sentencing Now Scheduled June 23

KINGSTON vance the date of sentencing.

Sentencing of John Parker Jr., 30, of Mahwah, N.J., who pleaded guilty earlier this week to murder in the 1970 slaying of a gas station attendant on the Thruway near New Paltz, was adjourned Wednesday by County Judge Raymond J. Mino until June 23 at 11 a.m.

Mino noted that he may adjourn the date of sentencing.

He told Joshua N. Koplovitz, counsel for Parker, and Joseph J. Trafficanti Jr., first assistant district attorney, that there are some details that have not been worked out, and he needed time to do that.

Parker admitted through his guilty plea on Monday that he fatally shot Gordon Scharrenberg, 20, of Park Ridge, N.J., with a revolver when the youth tried to run away after the two men left a car on the superhighway last Oct. 27. Scharrenberg had been robbed in a Sloatsburgh service station where he was employed and forced to accompany Parker to the spot where the youth was killed.

Parker reportedly had told investigators that he had planned to bind Scharrenberg with a rope and leave him near New Paltz, but when the youth started to run, he panicked and fired five shots at him.

Meanwhile, the case of Mrs. Helen Acker, 22, of Mahwah, who is under indictment for murder in Scharrenberg's death, is expected to be discharged from Kingston Hospital today or tomorrow. She has been a patient at the hospital the last few weeks and on Sunday she gave birth to a son, it was learned yesterday.

William D. Pretsch, attorney for Mrs. Acker, on Wednesday asked for a delay in her trial because he has not had sufficient time to consult with her to prepare the defense. Pretsch also told Mino that in his opinion Mrs. Acker couldn't have a fair trial because of a recent radio broadcast that contained a prejudicial statement regarding the case.

Mino put the trial over the term and it probably will be held late this summer.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JUNE 10, 1971

Employment Paradox

Total employment in May rose 265,000 after seasonal adjustment to match the record 78.7 million who had jobs in March of 1970.

Unemployment in May inched up for the third straight month to 6.2 per cent, to match the nine-year peak for jobless set last December.

What does this paradox of more jobs and more jobless mean to the man in the street?

The answer is to be found in the fact that more people are coming into the work force than it can absorb—more veterans, more women and more youngsters, with a well publicized segment of professionals, the scientists, engineers and technicians of the aerospace industry, laid off by the abandonment of the American supersonic transport plane, and space cutdown.

But it also indicates that, with more jobs than ever being filled, the economy may be recovering some of its bounce. The economy is providing more jobs than ever before, and that is the thing to emphasize. More people at work will generate still more jobs.

The minimal increase in joblessness from April's 6.1 per cent to May's 6.2 per cent is considered statistically insignificant because of possible aberrations and sampling errors. But the slow rise from 5.9 per cent in February is statistically significant, said Assistant Commissioner of Labor Statistics Harold Goldstein.

The seemingly anomaly of simultaneous increases of both employment and unemployment was due to a seasonally adjusted jump of 400,000 in the labor force. By private reckoning, it is fair to state that the labor market improved in May because of the good showing in both total employment and adjusted unemployment. The adjustment came from the fact that more people who had given up were lured to seek work in May because of improving job prospects.

Crowded at the Top

It's been a tough 15-months for Richard Nixon in the presidential polls, due to the constant sniping always "enjoyed" by a President. He dropped an average six points to his leading Democratic opponents and possible competitors. All three, Muskie, Kennedy and Humphrey, pulled up an average six points to crowd the top rung in the presidential derby, according to the latest Gallup poll.

Senator Edmund Muskie of Maine has pulled ahead to 41 per cent over Nixon's 39; Senator Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts lags slightly with 41 per cent to Nixon's 42; and Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota lags a little more, at 39 per cent to Nixon's 42. In all three tests, Gov. George Wallace of Alabama held even, at 12 per cent with Muskie and Humphrey, and 10 per cent with Kennedy.

Other Democratic hopefuls did not get enough votes to show in this test. One reason is that they are not nationally known. It is called voter awareness. Humphrey and Kennedy have equal voter awareness but Muskie, somewhat below them in this factor, led both in this poll. He has been making a more determined effort, though like them he is still an undeclared candidate. Senator Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota rates well in voter awareness, but has not begun to show with the leaders in the polls. Senator George McGovern of South Dakota, the only declared candidate, rates low in voter awareness and has not appeared strongly in the polls.

At this stage, polls may be encouraging, but not conclusive, except that it is becoming clear that the Democratic nomination is now a three-way race, whatever Kennedy may say to the contrary.

Pre-School Education

Federal aid for the care and education of pre-school children would be expanded for the poor and not-so-poor at a cost of $13 billion in the next four years, if bipartisan groups in both houses of Congress prevail. Though strongly supported, both in and out of Congress, the Office of Management and Budget in the White House is opposed, for the simple reason that the funds are nowhere in sight.

The federal government now supports several child-hood programs. Three main ones are Head Start, day care for children of working welfare mothers and, in some cities, kindergartens in the public schools, paid for in part by federal funds. These three are all for the poor. They reach 1.4 million children this fiscal year.

The new proposals would expand these programs, require their closer coordination and make them also available to children of parents whose incomes are above the poverty level. The House bill authorizes "such sums as are necessary," an open-end tunnel; the Senate specifies $13 billion over four years.

There is wide agreement on the psychological importance of the pre-school years, but no one is sure what works best with very young children, or even what works at all. For that reason, and because of the extra funds envisioned, the budget office has a point.

Better let this expansion go until more is known about the effect on pre-school children. The essentials are being cared for now.

David Lawrence Says What About the Platform Of Each Political Party?

WASHINGTON — There is a lot of talk about where the national political conventions to nominate the candidates for the Presidency are going to be held next year, but very little is being said about what is going to be written into the platform of each party.

In fact, an examination of the platforms of 1968 reveals some startling platitudes. The spokesmen of both parties have said over and over again many of the things embodied in their respective platforms.

There is one plank in the Republican platform of 1968, however, which deserves careful study, as it discusses the Johnson administration's Vietnam policy. It reads in part as follows:

"The administration's Vietnam policy has failed — militarily, politically, diplomatically, and with relation to our own people."

"We condemn the administration's breach of faith with the American people respecting our heavy involvement in Vietnam. Every citizen bitterly recalls the Democrat campaign oratory of 1964: 'We are not about to send American boys 9-10,000 miles away from home to do what Asian boys ought to be doing for themselves.' The administration's failure to honor its own words has led millions of Americans to question its credibility."

"The entire nation has been profoundly concerned by hastily-exterminated, undeclared land wars which embroiled massive U.S. armed forces thousands of miles from our shores. It is time to realize that not every international conflict is susceptible of solution by American ground forces."

"Militarily, the administration's piecemeal commitment of men and material has wasted our massive military superiority and frittered away our options. The result has been a prolonged war or attrition. Throughout this period the administration has been slow in training and equipping South Vietnamese units both for fighting the war and for defending their country after the war is over."

"Politically, the administration has failed to recognize the entirely novel aspects of this war. The overemphasis on its oldstyle, conventional aspects has blinded the administration to the fact that the issue is not control of territory but the security and loyalty of the population. The enemy's primary emphasis has been to disrupt orderly government."

"The administration has paid inadequate attention to the political framework on which a successful outcome ultimately depends. Not only has the administration failed to encourage assumption of responsibility by the Vietnamese, but their sense of responsibility has been in fact undermined by our approach to pacification. An added factor has been a lack of security for the civilian population."

"At home, the Administration has failed to share with the people the full implication of our challenge and of our commitments."

"To resolve our Vietnam dilemma, America obviously requires new leadership — one capable of thinking and acting anew, not one hostage to the many mistakes of the past. The Republican Party offers such leadership."

The platform went on to propose a strategy "permitting a progressive de-Americanization of the war, both military and civilian" and a course that would "enable and induce the South Vietnamese to assume increasing responsibility."

At the same time, however, the platform pledged a program for peace in Vietnam that would be "neither peace at any price nor a camouflaged surrender of legitimate United States or allied interests" but would offer "a fair and equitable settlement to all, based on the principle of self-determination, our national interests and the cause of long-range world peace."

The platform expressed "pride in the nation's armed forces in Southeast Asia and elsewhere in the world" and called for a return to the principle that "American interests are best served by cooperative multilateral action with our allies rather than by unilateral U.S. action."

The document adopted by the Republican National Convention held at Miami Beach on Aug. 6, 1968, seems in many respects prophetic of what has actually happened under the Nixon Administration.

Jack Anderson Says

Air Force Band at All-White, Private School Graduation

WASHINGTON — The Pentagon, over the objections of Sen. Frank Moss, D-Utah, ordered an Air Force band to play at graduation ceremonies at a private, all-white school in Montgomery, Ala.

The band played on June 6 at the Montgomery Academy, a high-achievement school of 500 set up in 1959.

This had been an annual appearance arranged by Maj. Gen. James McIntyre, a retired Air Force congressional liaison chief, who is a director of the school. Because of the school's all-white student body, however, the Air Force finally blocked the band from playing.

But this year, following a public announcement by the school that it would open its doors to all students with the $1,000 tuition and proper qualifications, the school again asked the band to play. The school still has no blacks and no prospects of getting any. Grumbling began in the band, therefore, among white as well as black members. At the Pentagon, Maj. Melvin Huyett, the band's community relations officer, told officials at Maxwell Air Force Base that he also disapproved of the idea.

Huyett diplomatically said he thought it was bad policy to play at any high school gatherings. But General McIntyre, wise in the ways of Washington, discreetly called Maxwell Air Force Base to inquire, as he put it, about the band.

Huyett was swiftly overruled, and the band was once again ordered to play.

Senator Moss, notified by a band member, wrote a hot letter on June 1 to Air Force Secretary Robert Seamans, declaring: "I would hope that serious consideration would be given to cancelling Air Force participation in the program."

Last Friday, the Air Force told Moss's office the band would play because Montgomery had enrolled two black students for this fall.

We reached Robert Weil, the school board's president, who said he could recall no black applications to the graceful Georgian brick school on the edge of town. He said he would welcome applications from qualified black students with the $1,000 tuition.

"We are not one of these schools set up to counter the Federal rules on integration," he said. "We don't even play in athletic leagues with them."

Footnote: The Air Force, either by mistake or in an effort to soothe Moss, gave him bum information on the "two black students." Weil said none have been enrolled.

Building Boondoggle
Senate Public Works Chairman Jennings Randolph, D-W. Va., has asked his staff to investigate the Pikes Peak cost of federal office buildings. It cost the government's own construction experts $38 a square foot, for example, to build their Housing and Urban Development headquarters. Yet directly across the street, an office building of the same quality cost private contractors only $22 a square foot to build.

The marker identifying the HUD building cost $71,000 alone. The government erected an eight-story concrete slab, complete with floodlights to illuminate the lettering at night.

1972 Demo Convention

That Lucky (?) Miami Beach

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — It looks pretty likely now that Miami Beach will get the 1972 Democratic convention to be set in early July. If that's it, the people in Miami Beach may come to wonder why they ever wanted the thing.

There's bound to be at least a minor explosion of emotion, though the intensity of Chicago in 1968 almost certainly won't be matched.

One reason difficulties are predictable is that the party's ardent left consistently takes the position that if its narrow minority doesn't win, that means the whole setup is lousy and illegal.

Barring some, freakish combination of events, the arch left isn't going to win. It will lose because most of the people they want to "give power to" are in the middle, where they are not. The cries of pain, signifying "injustice," will be loud. Action will be vigorous.

Another factor forecasting trouble looms larger with the passing weeks. Reformers who have labored hard and earnestly to open up the convention delegate selection process probably imagine they're going to get an amazingly "wide-open" convention.

Yet one of the big things happening in the name of reform appears to point the other way. So far, eight new primaries have been added to the rolls, for a total of 23 against 15 in 1968. It might go to 26 if Delaware, Michigan and Louisiana all convert present interest into law.

What does this do for the "wide-open" convention? It means, above all, that — on the day the convention first meets — a higher proportion of the total delegate roster will be legally bound to one candidate or another than ever in U.S. political history.

Just on the basis of present primary status, 744 delegates would thus be bound, and another 416 could be bound under certain circumstances. That comes to 1,160, roughly two-thirds of the 1,509 needed for nomination and somewhat more than a third of the 3,016 grand total.

The figure could be altered upward by new primary additions. It could be moved downward by action in Massachusetts (102 votes), where major change in the law is pending, but the "bound" total will stay high.

It is interesting to note, against the "reform" backdrop, that voting results will bind delegates in five of the eight new state primaries — Maryland, Tennessee, North Carolina, New Mexico and Alaska. They MAY be binding in another — Rhode Island.

Altogether, 10 states presently have legally binding primaries and in six more the delegates may be bound.

You will sometimes hear it argued that, yes, these delegates will be bound — but only for a ballot or two. Silly argument. Beginning in 1932, the two major parties

"This is strictly an esthetic frill that has no useful purpose other than to identify the building," reported staff aide J.B. Huyett, Jr., in a private memo to Randolph.

The government has lighted the emergency exits in its buildings with bulbs that cost less but don't last as long as a superior brand. By using the longer-life bulbs, Randolph calculated that the taxpayers could save $30,000 for every large federal building over a 20-year period.

Since the government has more than 500 such facilities, the potential savings just on exit light bulbs could amount to $15 million.

Extra Expense
Randolph also noted that the apertured fixtures underneath fluorescent lights are costly to clean. The function of this eggcrate design is to diffuse the light. But he was told this was unnecessary when the lights are more than 15 feet above the floor.

The elimination of these fancy fixtures saved $200,000 in one government department alone.

The standards for federal buildings are usually higher — and, therefore, more costly — than the standards for commercial buildings. But Randolph couldn't see, for instance, why the taxpayers should spend millions to keep federal office buildings three degrees cooler in the summer.

"Can you tell the difference between 75 and 78 degrees inside when it's 100 degrees outside?" he demanded in a draft report not yet released to the press.

When Randolph learned, in another instance, that the director of a four-story federal building had demanded the fastest elevator because he didn't like to wait, the Senator asked some acid questions. Result: the trip now takes six seconds longer, and the elevator cost $8,500 less.

In his draft report, Randolph concluded tersely: "There is something wrong with the way the federal government is constructing buildings."

together have held 20 conventions. Exactly 16 of the 20 were decided on the first ballot. Two went three ballots, one went four and one, far back in 1940, went six.

Now this entire business, greatly magnified by the new primaries, points up a terrible contradiction in the arguments of "open convention" delegates. At least since the 1960 nomination of John F. Kennedy, they have been shouting "rigged!" whenever a large proportion of the delegates seemed committed before the first gavel fell.

Rigged? Really? The changes for 1972 mean that millions more voters than ever before will have a hand in the nomination decision. The voters involved will include tie in possibly nine of the nation's 10 most populous states with the largest convention delegate totals.

Is it more democratic to ignore these voter choices (and even those made in state conventions where no primaries exist), in favor of delegate decisions rendered in the frantic, artificial, pressure-cooker atmosphere of a no-sleep national convention?

Socialist Labor Party

Editor, The Freeman:

I had the pleasure of being in Beacon Tuesday night, June 1, when Henning Blomen, the Presidential candidate of the Socialist Labor Party in 1968, delivered a free public lecture. What impressed me, aside from the excellent talk by Mr. Blomen, is that the audience were young people who seemed sincerely interested in making the change to the new set-up of Socialism as recommended by the Socialist Labor Party.

There was a good display of Socialist Labor Party literature.

on hand and the young folks availed themselves by buying a substantial amount and contributing to the collection.

The young friends of the Socialist Labor Party in the Beacon area who arranged the lecture are going to organize a study class that prepares students, if they so desire, to apply for membership in the Socialist Labor Party. Good!

Widening of Albany Avenue

Editor, The Freeman:

I, too, am opposed to widening Albany Avenue. I decry the destruction of the beautiful trees and homes that line this thoroughfare from Foxhall Avenue to the Traffic Interchange. I also fail to see how this is a solution to our traffic tie-ups. Where will all this additional traffic go after it reaches the interchange? I can only envision an even worse back-up than already exists on a busy day. Cars now back up as far as Ten Broeck Avenue!

I would also like to point out a fact that our representatives do not seem to be aware of: —the homes between Foxhall Avenue and the Interchange are for the most part owned and occupied by families who have young children. These children must cross Albany Avenue to attend the public schools. There are also children who live behind Albany Avenue (Manor Avenue and the "President" Streets) who must also travel this route.

In summary: How can changing a beautiful avenue, in the middle of a residential area, to a congested, widened highway help in the progress of our City? When will the "powers-that-be" stop looking for shortcuts and short-lived solutions without regard for the grace and charm of our community and without regard for the welfare of its residents they so dubiously represent?

Yours truly,

Remove Communist Party

Editor, The Freeman:

Resolution—No. 101-2 — (Remove the Communist Party from our Voting Ballots on Election Day.)

The above resolution has been passed and accepted by Chapter 156 of the Disabled American Veterans of Kingston, N.Y., to have the Communist Party of the United States removed from our voting ballots on Election Day and to have every Veterans Organization and American Citizen, who ever had a son, daughter or relative in service for his or her country to get behind this move and support it with every ounce of energy you have.

Matter of Resolution: We are all familiar and have knowledge of the Communist Party and of its ideals and its internal purpose in the United States of America.

So from here on in, let's not cloud the issue. During WW II, Korea and presently in Vietnam our fighting men have been killed, mangled and held prisoners by the Communists.

with little or no concern, than our ordinary accident reports that we all read in our daily papers and then forget. Well, its about time we all wake up and realized that our country is in danger and the longer we ignore it the worse it will get. Presently our boys are fighting an undeclared war in Vietnam—being killed and held prisoners every day—while the Communist Party is allowed to run in a free election in our National, State and County and City ballots. It is a disgrace to the human intelligence and the rape of the American public.

Summary: If the Communist Party is to be allowed to place their name on the ballots, then it is time that the American public contact their lawmakers, legislators and senators and inform them that in the event the Communist Party is still allowed to run on our ballots of election then it is time that our Constitution of the United States be changed by our lawmakers to prevent this or any other situation that may arise in the future to eventually try to overthrow or destroy our country by not firing a single shot. Now is the time to act before it is too late.

America—May God Bless Her and Keep Her.

Tax Law Loopholes

Editor, The Freeman:

Propagandists popped out from all over to defend Gov. Reagan after it became known that he paid no state income tax in 1970. A Wm. (brother of Senator James) Buckley style article — "Reagan's income taxes" in the Times Record recently, from "on the right," discoursed about the perfectly law-abiding way tax escaping occurs, emphasizing that the laws are passed after public debate.

Not disclosed however is why tax laws emerge that are full of loopholes, built-in special exemptions which obtain to the wealthy only, creating for them tremendous tax exemptions. These same laws prove confiscatory to the unwealthy and unpropertied, totally oppressing and preventing most from ever accumulating even a roof over their heads. Not told is that the super-wealthy sit down with the lawmakers to formulate and dictate the direction and intent of all tax laws. Legislators are generously rewarded for their compliance.

Not told is that "public debate by legislators is a farce, performed to fool the taxpaying public."

Not told is that most laws are the result of conspiracies made within the governing body itself. For example the oil depletion allowance measure, (one of many), which has permitted investments of the wealthy to offset other taxable income. If taxpayers were allowed this same privilege, every dollar deposited in a savings account would be tax-deductible. Instead, the tax laws levy on those dollars and Congress distributes the collected tax monies among the wealthy for their further enrichment. Many other subtleties and tax-evading measures are inherent in this law.

Recent new laws do not aid the small income people, in fact, they have become further subtle ways of taxing them.

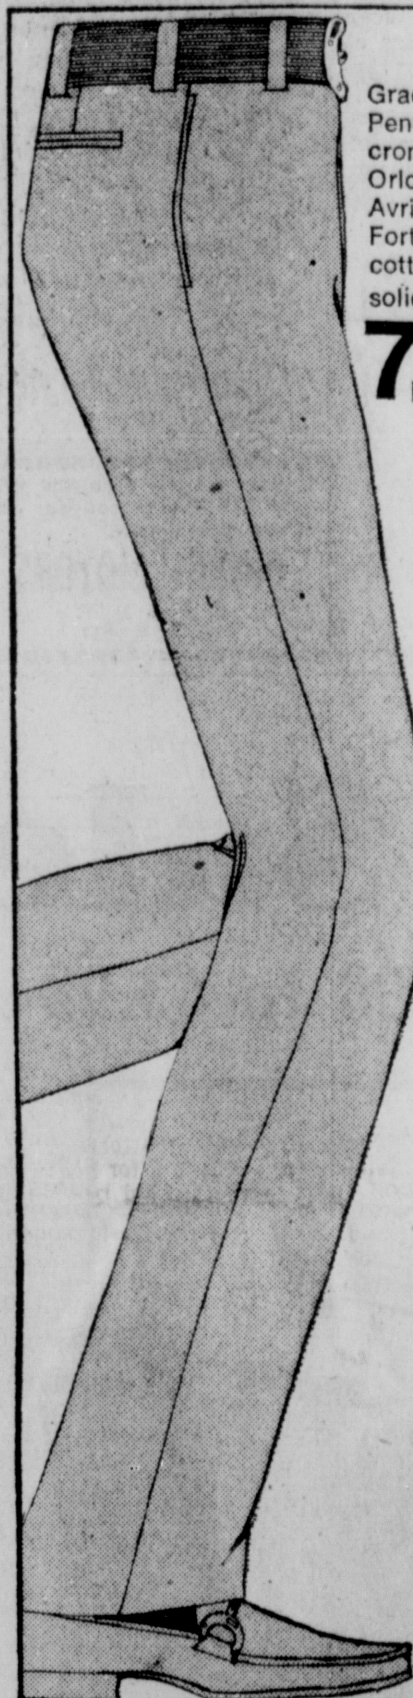

The ill-fed, ill-clothed and ill-housed population of this land is created by the Reagans, and the Rockefellers, etc., who escape taxation because there ex-

Man to Appear in Court on Assault Charge

KINGSTON — Charged with second degree assault and resisting arrest in connection with an alleged assault on the Shandaken town attorney who reportedly was severely injured, George Green, 32, of 14 Abell Street, is slated to appear Friday before City Judge Hubert A. Richter.

Injured and hospitalized as the result of the incident which took place near the Trailways Bus Terminal, Pine Grove Avenue and Broadway on Monday, was Charles H. Watson, 72, of Pine Hill, police said. He was taken to Benedictine Hospital following the incident and treated for injuries of the arms and other injuries. It was learned today that Watson is now under treatment at Cornell Medical Center in New York City.

Patrolmen Nicholas Gantner and Ronald Natoli investigated a complaint of an assault near the bus terminal. They took Green in custody on a holding charge of public intoxication pending further investigation and a statement from Watson.

As the policemen were putting the man in a car, the defendant allegedly kicked and punched the officers, and later while being booked at police headquarters Green reportedly became disorderly and had to be subdued. The assault and resisting arrest counts were subsequently filed.

On Tuesday, pleas of innocent were entered and hearing on the charges was adjourned pending further investigation.

Bill Would Aid Some on Hiring Constable

POUGHKEEPSIE — Smaller towns and villages will be able to hire constables under a bill passed by the legislature and sent to Governor Rockefeller for signature. The bill was carried in the Senate by Sen. Jay P. Rolison, Jr., and co-sponsored by Assemblyman H. Clark Bell.

The two legislators explained that "Many small towns and villages find it necessary to hire part time or seasonal constables. Under existing civil service law the requirements for such constables are the same as for full time members of a city police force, thus making it impossible for many of these communities to find men who meet all the specifications, or to wait long enough for examinations and their results. Many of these jobs are in seasonal resort areas or are part time in nature.

"This amendment would place constables in the same category as under-sheriffs and similar posts. It will enable smaller communities to meet their needs in times of peak activity without having to create year round, full time police posts at added expense to the taxpayers."

The bill will now go to the Governor for consideration of his signature in the 30 day Brussels and Chicago in addition to its New York route.

Treat Woman For Inhalation At City Fire

KINGSTON

A Kingston woman was treated for smoke inhalation Wednesday after she was assisted from her home in Ponckhockie by a volunteer fireman following a fire that was confined to a pan of meat in the kitchen.

Another fire was reported in the Accord fire district last night.

Six pieces of apparatus in charge of Chief James M. Brett and Deputy Hugh Greer were dispatched to the two-story frame home of Alfred and Ruth Van Derzee at 49 Tompkins Street at 3:40 p.m. On arrival firemen were told by Volunteer Fireman Robert Winchell Jr., of Union Hose Company, a neighbor of the Van Derzees that he had removed Mrs. Van Derzee from her smoke-filled home.

Fireman John Hammersley administered oxygen to the woman and later she was taken in the chief's car to the Kingston Hospital emergency room for treatment of smoke inhalation.

Heavy smoke caused by the burning meat was cleared from the dwelling by artificial and natural means. Fire units reported back in service at 5:07 p.m.

Officials of the Accord Fire Department today investigated a fire that gutted the interior of an unoccupied two-story frame house on a highway in Accord known as the Towpath road.

The fire was reported at 11:50 p.m. Wednesday and 50 volunteer firefighters in charge of Chief Arthur Lapp responded. On arrival firemen saw flames leaping through the structure.

Theough mutual aid, Allgerville firemen went to the scene to assist. Efforts were to be made today to learn the identity of the owner of the building. Fire units reported back in service at about 3 a.m.

'Brownie Day' On Saturday At Hidden Valley

SAUGERTIES
Rounding up the year's activities, more than 300 Brownies and Cadets of Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts, Saugerties Neighborhood, will gather at Hidden Valley, Whiteport Road, for "Brownie Day" Saturday, June 12.

According to Mrs. Michael J. Esposito of Saugerties, chairman of the event, the day's activities will begin at 9:30 a.m. and will include: a hike through mystery woods at 10:30 a.m.; a bag lunch at Fisherman's Meadow; and afternoon games of tug-of-war, sack races, and a watermelon contest. The outing will also serve as the occasion for Cadet Scouts to earn merit badges, as they assist the leaders in group activities and take charge of many of the scheduled events.

Hidden Valley is located four miles south of Kingston off Route 32. Turnoff is at Beversdoffer Road, then following Whiteport Road to the 230-acre recreational center.

Contract Stalemate Is Continuing

Onteora Teachers Assn. Tells Why

BOICEVILLE, N.Y. — "There is nothing more discouraging to a teacher than not receiving fair remuneration when he knows he is teaching in an outstanding district — a leader in the Mid-Hudson Valley Class B schools."

• "Our basketball coach, 'Coach of the Year,' received approximately 73 cents an hour for leading the Onteora Indians to the UCL championships this year."

• "Teacher morale at Onteora is deteriorating, and quality education cannot be provided in such a climate."

• "Teachers are angry because of the Board's recent disregard for them and their association; the closed legislative hearing, and the imposed settlement."

Stalemate Continues
These and other salient points are listed by Dorothy Birmingham, newly elected president of Onteora Teachers Association, as reasons for the continuing stalemate in contract negotiations between OCS teachers, the school board and the administration.

The staccato word barrage from the new OTA president came in the wake of a document in the form of a "collectively negotiated agreement," offered to OTA for signing by superintendent of schools Dr. Frank M. Marlow on direction of the Board of Education. Strongly recommending that OTA accept the document and its all-inclusive resolution, Dr. Marlow noted: "the Board is desirous of continuing its formal contractual relationship with the teaching staff and retaining the harmonious relationship which has existed in the past."

The superintendent maintained the document incorporated all articles agreed on at the bargaining table, plus an equitable salary increase and other fringe benefits.

The teachers association failed to see it through similar rose-tinted glasses; asked its attorney, Jack Economou, to dispute Dr. Marlow's statements. Economou did so; advised the superintendent that "harmonious relations" could only be achieved by a "bilateral agreement at the negotiating table."

They Once Agreed
The OTA attorney urged the District to return to the bargaining table, and to begin to "attain salary parity with Class B schools of the Mid-

Hudson School Study Council."

Economou pointed out that he and Marlow agreed at the table that for bargaining purposes, OCS would compare itself with these schools; further maintained the median starting BA and MA salary, median increments, and median credit hour payments currently in those schools exceed payments offered in Onteora for next year.

In other words, "no professional harmony or effective dealing with district educational concerns" is possible, suggested Economou, until OTA and the board go back to the negotiating table "where collective negotiations rightly belong."

Concurring totally with the attorney and going even further, OTA president Birmingham says four major articles remain to be mutually accepted. She, too, urges a return to the table. Insisting that Onteora pays the "lowest starting salary in this area," Mrs. Birmingham says OTA asks only for an increase that will again say to teachers, as it did in 1964-65, that OCS wants quality people and will pay for that quality.

Impasse on Credit Hours
The teaching staff should also be paid in blocks of six credit hours rather than 10, she says as is done in such districts as Kingston, Saugerties, New Paltz and Rondout Valley.

Another bone of contention — the fact that figures are too low on extra pay for extra duties. An increase in pay for teachers involved in extra-curricular activities at OCS is of vital concern, she says, with OTA willing to accept payments on the median level of Class B schools.

There is further concern that the document recommended by Dr. Marlow and approved by resolution of the board fails to provide for after-school recreation in elementary schools next year, and fails to allocate monies for a junior high interscholastic athletic program. How can there be a foundation for an overall athletic program at OCS if the district does not maintain its extra-curricular programs, Mrs. Birmingham asks.

"Make no mistakes," says Mrs. Birmingham, "teacher morale at Onteora is deteriorating . . . and only a collectively negotiated contract can preserve harmony."

No Unilateral Decision
With no desire to "divide the district" and every desire to continue negotiations, OTA is nevertheless adamant that closed legislative hearings and imposed settlement is unacceptable. Continued negotiations are the only course, insists the OTA president, since teachers will not accept a unilateral decision about the unsettled articles; will go to the public, albeit reluctantly, via a publicity campaign, if necessary.

Some of that publicity has apparently already been mounted; is sifting down. Teachers recently circulated a chart showing that an Onteora teacher's salary had risen from $5,300 in 1964 to only $7,200 in 1970-71, while the superintendent's salary had zoomed in the same period from $16,250 to $28,000. The chart also showed Onteora far behind the national average for teaching salaries, which were $5,874 in 1964; are $8,635 today.

Red Spacemen Settle Down For Long Stay

MOSCOW (UPI)—Three Soviet cosmonauts settled in today for a long stay among the home comforts of their "flying hotel," a Salute space station fitted out for hot food, cold drinks and leisure reading. Tass, the Soviet news agency, described the 25-ton station as a spacious and comfortable temporary home for Cosmonauts Georgi Dobrovolsky, Vladislav Volkov and Viktor Patsayev. "The standard of comfort is high here," Tass said. "There are vacuum cleaners, water heaters, devices for warming food, refrigerators—in other words it is a modern flying hotel where even a library of the cosmonauts favorite books is maintained." The elaborate fittings suggested plans for a relatively long stay by the cosmonauts, who went aboard Salute Monday from the Soyuz 11 shuttle ship that had carried them aloft, one day before.

Ulster Town Bids on PO Close June 18

KINGSTON Bids will be accepted until June 18 to operate Contract Branch No. 1 of Kingston Post Office located in the Town of Ulster.

The bid is for the period of July 1, 1971 to June 30, 1972. Thereafter, the contract will be awarded for a period of three years.

The bidder is required to furnish 200 square feet of space including heat and electricity. He is also required to furnish all necessary labor to operate the branch and a safe.

The hours of operation of the office will be from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. Monday through Friday and 8 a. m. to 12 noon on Saturday. Hours of operation may be changed by consent of the postmaster at Kingston.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish a $3,000 bond. Personal bonds will not be accepted.

Location of Contract Branch No. 1 must be in the area of Albany Avenue Extension (Ulster Avenue Mall) between Wallace's and the Town of Ulster Firehouse, or on one of the side streets within this area. The post office is presently situated on Vincent Street.

Further information is available from Kingston Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk.

21,000 Policemen In N.Y. Strike Will Be Fined

NEW YORK (UPI)—New York Personnel Director Harry I. Bronstein said Wednesday 21,000 policemen will be fined, put on probation for one year and lose tenure for participating in a strike early this year. Bronstein, who made a man-by-man study of police records during the strike period Jan. 14-19, said each policeman would be fined two days' pay for each day or part of a day that he participated in the strike.

Bronstein said the 8,000 municipal workers who took part in another strike Monday and Tuesday will receive notices in their pay envelopes Friday that they also might be fined.

WORLD'S LARGEST — Unreliable sources say this coffee pot was once used by the Jolly Green Giant for those "mornings after the night before." While that report may be suspect, this IS the world's largest coffee maker, and it's now on display at Caldor's in Kingston. Manufactured by Corning Ware for display purposes only, this six foot behemoth tips the scales at 400 pounds and is guaranteed to be the best coffee break "stretcher" in captivity. Caldor customers can view this replica for the rest of the week and can also pick up a free booklet on how to brew coffee, in a normal size coffee pot.

RCAC Votes On June 28

KINGSTON The Rondout Community Action Committee will hold its annual election for its board of directors on June 28 at an open meeting in the Service Center on 11 Broadway beginning at 7:30 p.m.

At present there are three vacancies on the board. Also on the ballot are the posts of president, vice-president, treasurer and recording secretary. A person does not have to be a member of the board in order to hold office.

Persons interested in submitting names to the board or for any other questions about the elections, are advised to contact Edward Brown, the community organizer at 11 Broadway.

Litter Law Enforcement Sought by Task Force

KINGSTON Better and more practical methods of recycling were also discussed with the group evaluating last Saturday's successful drive held in the Town of Ulster. It was announced that the Town of Ulster Library is donating free space to the Environmental Task Force for an ecology booth at the library's fair on Saturday June 26. The group will man a second ecology booth that same day on the Clearwater which is to dock in Kingston June 26-28. Volunteers for both booths have been secured. Photographs of water pollution are still being sought by the Task Force which will display them on the Clearwater. The contest entries must be submitted to the Chamber of Commerce of Ulster County in Kingston by June 20. Mrs. on Albany Avenue, which are Kobran said. Included must be information concerning the widening of the avenue.

Innocent Plea On 3 Charges

TOWN OF HURLEY A 22-year-old youth was arrested three times late Wednesday night on charges stemming from a chain of incidents that began with a false report of a stolen car. Kingston State Police received a call from Gerald Robert Muller of Route 5, Box 260, Kingston, at 11 p.m. reporting a car belonging to his mother had been stolen. Troopers G. R. Mack and J. C. Mikes investigated and learned that Muller reportedly had been driving the vehicle when it developed trouble on Creek Locks Road.

Muller was questioned and later booked for falsely reporting an incident. An hour later the man was arrested by the two troopers on complaint of the defendant's wife, Sherlyn Muller, who alleged her husband had assaulted her. Muller was booked for third degree assault. He was taken before Hurley Town Justice C. H. Dumond, and while being arraigned, troopers said, the man became disorderly and used profanity. He was then cited for disorderly conduct.

Pleas of innocent were entered on each of the three counts, and in lieu of bail totaling $200, Muller was committed to the county jail pending hearing on June 15 at 8 p.m.

Fly Airlift

TOKYO (UPI)—About 20,000 fireflies were flown into Tokyo this week by air express from Japan's southern islands of Kyushu and Shikoku.

The lightning bugs will be released in the gardens of Chinzanso restaurant for children and adults to watch at night. Industrial smog has killed off most fireflies in Tokyo.

MR. AND MRS. STANLEY PUSWOSKI of Rosendale celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary June 5 at a surprise party at the Blue Flame Tavern in Stone Ridge. The party was given by their granddaughters and husbands, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Musick of Rosendale and Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Briody of Stone Ridge. Married June 4, 1916, in Brooklyn, Mr. and Mrs. Puswoski had two children, the late Stephen Puswoski and the late Mae Mottle. Guests attended from Albany and New York City as well as the Ulster County area. Before retirement, Mr. Puswoski operated a tavern in Brooklyn. (Freeman photo by Kruh).

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Lefooters Square Dance Club Names Guest Caller

Lefooters Western Style Square Dance Club will have guest caller Buzz Chapman featured at their Friday night dance. The dance starts at 8:30 p.m. at the Hurley Reformed Church Hall off Route 209. All club level dancers are invited.

Buzz, who began his calling career as a teenager, has been calling for about nine years. Currently he is calling for seven clubs including the Merry Eights of Pittsfield, Mass. Trailtown Twirlers of Greenfield, Mass., and a club in Portland, Maine, as well as serving as chairman of the Springfield Area Callers Association, and newly elected secretary of the New England Council of Callers Association which represents 500 callers in the New England area.

Taking Office along with Buzz as chairman of the New England Council of Callers Association is Lefooters club caller Don Blair. Buzz also served as program chairman for the April 1971 New England Square Dance convention that had more than 7,000 people in attendance.

Buzz, his wife, Cindy, and their two sons make their home in Florence, Mass. He is the District Supervisor for the M&M Mars Candy Co. of western New England.

Once again Lefooters plan to share their fun of square dancing with the public when they dance during the Sunday, July 4th festival at Cantine Field in Saugerties. In addition to being able to watch the Lefooters dance from 5:30 to 7:00 p.m., the audience will periodically be invited to participate with the dancers.

Birth Announcement

Mr. and Mrs. Richard G. Whitaker of Islip are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, Richard John, born Friday, June 4 at Bay Shore Hospital in Long Island.

Mr. Whitaker, formerly of Kingston, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Whitaker of 218 Greenkill Avenue.

Mate's Meanness Depresses Her

DEAR ABBY: I am so hurt I could die. My husband hasn't bothered with me for the last six months. I haven't nagged him about it. I thought that he was just tired out or not feeling well and he'd gradually resume our old relationship which has always been quite satisfactory.

The other night I asked him if there was something wrong and he just blurted out that he thought my body was "repulsive."

Abby, I am only 33, but I've had five children and my stomach is covered with stretch marks and I know my bust sags and my body isn't as pretty as it used to be, but I got into this shape from having his children, so what am I to do?

I am so confused. I still don't know what to think about what he said. Can stretch marks be removed? And would it pay to have surgery to lift my bustline? I know it's expensive but I would make a lot of sacrifices to get my husband back.

HURT

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1971, by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR HURT: If you honestly feel that a lift here and a tuck there is all you need to get your husband back, talk to a competent plastic surgeon. But what about your husband's cruelty? Perhaps he needs a doctor who uses words to reduce the meanness in him. His defects are far uglier than yours.

DEAR ABBY: Here's how I cured my lazy husband of leaving stuff in his pants and shirt pockets: I would go thru all his pockets very carefully, removing matches, cigarettes, papers, pens and all personal belongings. These things I would put into a box on his dresser. All the money, I kept!

He's more careful now, but I still pick up a few bucks now and then.

Guggenheim Medallion For Kathleen Krajci

Kathleen Krajci, Van Dale Road, Woodstock, received a Guggenheim Medallion for her activities in student organizations when she graduated Sunday, June 6 from the Mount Sinai Hospital School of Nursing in New York. Commencement exercises were held in Hunter College Assembly Hall.

This was the final class to graduate from the 90-year-old school, one of the nation's first nursing schools. With the phasing out of the three-year diploma program, nursing education at Mount Sinai is now concentrated in the Mount Sinai School of Nursing of City College, offering a four-year program leading to a baccalaureate degree from City University.

As president of the graduating class, Miss Krajci made a symbolic transfer of "The tradition of excellence and concern with quality patient care" from the Hospital School of Nursing to the Mount Sinai School of Nursing of City College. The medallion was a piece of sculpture — a nearly life-size replica of the Mount Sinai nursing cap in gray-green bronze set on a black marble base. It is the work of Betti Richard of New York, who has done many distinguished bronzes, including two of composers Mozart and Wagner that are in the Metropolitan Opera. Miss Krajci made the presentation to Sandra J. Shapiro of Brooklyn, president of the student council of the Mount Sinai School of Nursing of City College.

Miss Krajci's mother, Mrs. William S. Krajci of the Woodstock address, is also a graduate of the Mount Sinai Hospital School of Nursing, whose 4,700 alumnae have distinguished themselves in their profession all over the globe.

Tricia Reared in Atmosphere of Protection

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tricia Nixon was reared in an atmosphere of private schools and Secret Service protection, a public man's child who is at once a campaign asset and a daughter to be shielded from the public.

The Tricia Nixon who marries Ed Cox on Saturday has known politics as a staple of life from the day she was born. She was reared in Washington, the mecca of politics, and she is being married in the White House, America's best-known address.

The daughter of Pat and Richard Nixon was a little girl who joined the church Scout troop, adored a tabby cat named Donna and was adamant about not parting with a big turtle skin pillaged from a Florida beach.

The Nixons tried to keep her out of the bright glare to the point of once refusing to subscribe to a major Washington newspaper. Its biting critical cartoons, they felt, were not fit for their two young daughters' eyes.

But for children such as Tricia and her sister Julie, there was no protection from worldly realities.

At six, Tricia stayed up to watch television as her father was nominated for vice president in Chicago. She named the family's black and white cocker spaniel "Checkers" and it became a household word in that 1952 campaign.

Her debut as a politician's daughter was made at the 1960 Republican convention when she was still in her teens.

She remembers "the saddest day of my life"—the day her father conceded defeat to John F. Kennedy in that 1960 presidential race. President Nixon recalls that his then 14-year-old daughter cried uncontrollably.

But now Tricia is 25, a blue-eyed blonde with a delicate, fragile beauty. The years have molded her into a public personality with an overriding sense of privacy.

She is 5-foot-3, weighs only 95 pounds and gives a much younger appearance. She is reserved and speaks with the polite, soft voice of the finishing school.

But her father says "she's proved she has a mind of her own—a very strong personality—holds her own extremely well—but never starts a fight."

Admittedly reserved, Tricia managed in 2½ years in the White House to take part in a minimum of public duties and campaigning, keeping a very private life of her own. She enjoyed some of it, however, such as a masked ball, entertaining Prince Charles and Princess Anne of England. And she's taken on such things as Potomac cruises for hospitalized servicemen and sporadically tutoring inner city children.

President Nixon's main wish for his older daughter after her White House wedding Saturday to Harvard law student Edward Cox is that she can live a life of her own, out of the "merciless glare of publicity."

She said she'd like to get a job, perhaps as a writer. The closest she's come to it was a summer stint as a receptionist in the office of then Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., after her junior year at Finch.

"It's difficult to hold a steady job when you're a president's daughter," she says. Nixon often recalls how he wasn't on hand when Tricia was born Feb. 21, 1946, in Whit-

Then it was a succession of expensive private schools: Sidwell Friends in Washington, Marlborough School for Girls in Los Angeles, Miss Chapin's and Finch College, near their Fifth Avenue Home in New York.

Tricia got high marks as a history major at Finch, was president of her junior class, a member of the International Relations Club and honor society.

Politically, she is a conservative.

At 18, Tricia wrote Lester Maddox, later governor of Georgia, telling him he could avoid the issue of serving blacks by turning his fried chicken establishment into a private club. She later denied this was a racist statement.

More recently, asked if she planned to watch the Peace Mobilization March in November 1969, Tricia said: "I think I can find something better to do."

Her father suggested recently Tricia's views may have been influenced by "upper-class liberal" schools she attended like Chapin and Finch.

Tricia reacted there to "attacks on her father by liberals," Nixon said. "She bristles and stands up for me. But she's not on the kooky right."

Ulster Does Well in Northern Dutchess Shopping Survey

By TIM SCHUSTER

RHINEBECK Helen Battistoni, president, under the direction of Professor George N. Freedman. Generalizing the results, the majority of food shoppers did their buying locally, with the Kingston area, a second choice and others, including Poughkeepsie and Hyde Park, third. And the majority of clothing and other item shoppers chose Ulster County, with the Poughkeepsie area second and local stores third. A ten per cent telephone list- ing survey in Red Hook, Rhinebeck, Staatsburg, Stanfordville, Pine Plains, and Clinton Corners was the first step. A total of 677 calls were made in a one-week period. Results to this area survey include these questions and answers: Where do you do major food shopping? Local 478, Kingston 133, other 150. Major reasons were listed as convenience and price. A late survey showed that food items in several Kingston stores and Rhinebeck stores were comparably priced. Where do you usually shop for clothing? Kingston 295, Poughkeepsie 281, local 209. Reasons given were fairly evenly distributed among price, convenience, variety, and quality. The telephone survey restricted just to the Rhinebeck and Red Hook exchanges favors Kingston shopping much more strongly. Results there show local food shopping at 291, Kingston 124, and all others 15. The reasons — convenience and price.

Clothing shopping shows viewed at random, with 167 none. They agreed that special Kingston area at 268, Poughkeepsie at 105, and Rhinebeck in Dutchess County, and 8 from tomers 10 to 4.

And Red Hook store personnel asked, "Do you think a compar- radio, but they felt that special advertising did not bring in more customers by a 3 to 6 mar- gin. Those from Dutchess were those newspapers 7 to 4 over- Those from Dutchess were those newspapers 7 to 4 over- Those from Dutchess were those newspapers 7 to 4 over-clothing, recreation, food, and records. They favored local boutiques by an 82 to 18 margin.

Conclusions on lists of specific food, clothing, and hardware items in Rhinebeck and Ulster stores were drawn from Rhinebeck Grand Union, Ulster Shop-Rite and Caldor for food, and several Rhinebeck clothing stores with Shop-Rite and Caldor again used in Ulster.

Results on food: "Each store had a complete selection of food which was similar in quality and quantity" and price.

Most staple goods in Rhinebeck drug stores were at the manufacturer's suggested retail price; items were lower at Kingston stores, and all stores "maintained a complete stock."

The final review by the survey was: "Rhinebeck stores carry a good line of products, not as much in the way of selection as Kingston, but good quality merchandise. The complete and varied selection of products was found in the stores we studied in Kingston. One feature that the two plazas in Kingston can't is one-stop shopping."

The student consensus was that, "The charm and uniqueness of Rhinebeck and Northern Dutchess area can be preserved if all the merchants cooperate in bringing new and exciting ideas to their customers."

Police Director Named By Town Board in Paltz

By WADE BURKHART

NEW PALTZ The New Paltz Town Board formally appointed John Francis Taylor to the position of police director at Wednesday night's meeting of the board. Taylor is a lieutenant in the New York State Police from Oneonta. He will shortly be retiring from the force at the age of 58 under the state police mandatory age regulations, and will assume his duties at New Paltz July 12.

The position of police director is a new one for the town. Its inception is necessitated by the town's move to first class status with more than 10,000 population, state law mandating the formation of a town police force to replace its present constabulary.

When questioned from the floor as to why the board chose a retiree to head the new force, Town Justice Parks Glenn said it was the opinion of the board that an experienced man was needed to set the force up. Councilman Dominick Sfragola noted Taylor presently has 70 men under him. Town Justice Rexford Schneider said Taylor had indicated to the board that he would probably not serve beyond his four-year contract, and would hope to develop his successor from among the force he selects.

Taylor salary will be $12,000 with yearly $1,000 increase for the four-year contract.

The board also voted to create the position of receiver of taxes and assessments. This is another change mandated by the state for a first class town. It was also voted to make the position appointive. Town Clerk Theodore Lasher presently serves as collector in addition to his duties as clerk, and the board indicated that they would probably appoint Lasher to the position.

The resignation of Fred M. Dressel as an assessor, effective July 1, was accepted with regret.

A letter from the Springtown Community Association was read concerning the proposed use of the Campbell property in the Springtown area for temporary storage of cars by the Rotary Club in a junk car crushing drive. Because of the objections of this group, the drive has been shelved by the Rotary Club according to Glenn.

The letter said it supported the idea of a drive, and suggested the town landfill area for a site. Town Supervisor Anthony Moriello said there was no place large enough suitable for such a site at the landfill. The board approved, after a public hearing held before the meeting, several changes in the town zoning and subdivision laws. One of the provisions approved would require a developer to donate 10 per cent of his land or $100 per home site, to the town recreation fund, to be used solely for recreational activities. The choice was left to the discretion of the Town Planning Board.

CSEA United Front Starting to Crack

MIDDLETOWN, N.Y. (AP) — The united front which Civil Service Employees Association officials had hoped to show for their June 16 strike against the state may have developed a crack Wednesday.

Philip Del Pizzo, president of the CSEA chapter at Middletown State Hospital, said his local would not walk out next Wednesday and he added, "I'm not convinced that this is a popular strike."

Del Pizzo said that "many chapter presidents" have opposed the strike idea despite a CSEA spokesman's claim that approval by local leaders had been "overwhelming."

The Middletown leader said his local, which had pressed for a June 1 strike earlier, would strike June 23, "... after I see what the CSEA is going to bring up in the way of a strike for the rest of the state."

"There's no guarantee this will be a successful strike."

The CSEA strike was called to protest the layoff of 8,250 state workers, many of whom were let go from the Department of Mental Hygiene, which runs the Middletown State Hospital.

Del Pizzo and three others were arrested at the hospital May 11 when some 200 to 300 persons demonstrated during the transfer of patients from Middletown to another hospital.

The transfers followed layoffs because of budget cuts. Two hundred employees were cut at Middletown State.

The four arrested later pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct charges and were released. A spokesman at union headquarters Wednesday said that Del Pizzo's chapter had taken "a particularly beating as a result of these cutbacks," and "... I wouldn't count out a change of mind between now and then (June 16)."

Sub Angels Gain Reward

ANAHEIM (AP) — The old adage "Good things come to he who waits" has turned out to be true for California Angel left fielders Billy Cowan and Tony Gonzalez, whose waiting has been rewarded.

The season started with American League batting champion Alex Johnson in left. When he was benched in a dispute with the manager recently, Cowan and Gonzalez began sharing left and collected deserved applause and Wednesday night for leading the Angels to a 4-3 victory over New York.

The rubber game of the three-game series tonight pits Angel Tom Murphy, 3-7, against Yankee Stan Bahnsen, 4-6.

Cowan slammed a three-run homer off Yankee starter Fritz Peterson in the seventh before giving way defensively to Gonzalez. After the Yankees rallied in the ninth to score two runs for a 3-3 tie, Gonzalez ripped a two-out single to left in the home half of the inning to score Ken Berry with the winning run.

"I don't like to sit," Gonzalez admitted, "but in this game you have to learn to be patient. I felt that if I waited long enough, my chance would come."

It is particularly hard for Gonzalez to adjust to his new role. He has been a regular for 11 seasons but this year has started only five of 57 games.

"Maybe now I get a few more starts," he grinned.

"I'm just glad to play once in a while," Cowan said after slamming his first home run of the year to erase a 1-0 New York lead. "Sure, everybody wants to play every day but whatever he (the manager) says is fine with me. I just hope that I can keep playing occasionally."

"It's just a matter of addition by subtraction," smiled Manager Lefty Phillips.

He took away Johnson, added Cowan and Gonzalez and came up with a plus.

Berry launched the Angel ninth with his second hit and Jim Fregosi sacrificed him to second. After Ken McMullen was walked intentionally by loser Jim Hardin, 5-3, Tony Conigliaro flied deep to center as both runners advanced.

Then Gonzalez delivered his game-winning hit.

"Yeah," said Phillips with a knowing smile, "he'll start tonight."

Gonzalez will be thankful for the opportunity to stretch his legs. It's tough sitting most of the time.

Hahn Destroys Old Image

NEW YORK (AP) — Don Hahn has a long memory and because of it, he's slowly destroying the good field-no hit tag he brought with him this spring when the Montreal Expos traded him to New York for Ron Swoboda.

Hahn was the hero Wednesday night when he boomed an eighth inning triple, driving in the Mets' first run and scored moments later on Bud Harrelson's triple as New York rallied for four runs and a 4-2 victory over the San Diego Padres.

When the Mets traded for Hahn in the final weeks of spring training, it was because they wanted a backup man for Tommie Agee. The word was for him not to forget his glove. His bat which produced a .255 average at Montreal last year, wasn't what the Mets were after.

"He can't hit," said Expos manager Gene Mauch. "We made the trade because we needed another center fielder," said Gil Hodges, boss of the Mets.

So Hahn arrived, glove in tow and memory intact. "Gil builds confidence in you. I remember reading an article that quoted him. He said once you're in the on deck circle, don't look over your shoulder." He stays with you.

With Agee sidelined by a sore leg, Hahn and his glove have been playing center field lately for the Mets. His bat has been No. 8 in the order, one notch ahead of the pitcher. Not a dangerous spot usually.

So, when Jerry Grote opened the Mets eighth with a single and with the Padres leading 2-0, most fans expected a batter for Hahn. But Hahn, who had been in the on-deck circle, remembered Hodges' quote.

"Nope I never looked back," said Hahn.

"Nope I never considered batting for him," said Hodges.

The 22-year-old outfielder jumped on reliever Al Severinsen's first pitch and sent it up the right center field alley, scoring Grote and ending a frustrating string of 12 Mets left on base in the first seven innings against Tom Phoebus and Severinsen.

"It was my biggest hit," confessed Hahn.

Hahn bided time at third base while pinch hitter Donn Clendenon, batting for winner Tom Seaver struck out. Seaver, never beaten in eight lifetime decisions against San Diego was fidgeting on the bench.

"I was thinking about one thing," said Seaver, who was rocked for eight hits including Nate Colbert's 12th homer. "I was thinking about three runs." Harrelson delivered Hahn with the tying run on a triple down the right field line. After pinch hitter Tim Foli was intentionally walked, Ken Singleton batted for Dave Marshall.

Singleton, who has a superman tee-shirt hanging in his locker worked the count to 3-2 against reliever Dick Kelley.

"I was looking for a breaking ball," said Singleton. "I wanted a pitch I could hit for a fly ball to get that run in." Kelley gave him a slider, and Singleton slashed it to left for a base hit, giving Seaver his three runs.

The Mets added another on walks to Art Shamsky and Bob Aspromonte and Tug McGraw nailed down the victory with a 1-2-3 ninth inning.

"It would have been frustrating," said Hodges, thinking of the 15 men the Mets left on base. "If we had lost with all those chances. But as long as we won, it wasn't so bad."

Hahn, who never had hit anything longer than a double before, had to agree.

Royals Beat Washington

Giants — June Swoon

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Elsewhere, Philadelphia

"Fun in '71" is manager Charlie Fox's slogan for the San Francisco Giants but he's having trouble dispelling the "June swoon" label.

The Giants managed only one hit—Dick Dietz' second-inning bouncing single up the middle—off Montreal's Steve Renko Wednesday night and went down to a 4-0 defeat, their seventh in eight games this month.

In little more than a week, in their lead over Los Angeles in the National League West has been trimmed from 10 1/2 to seven games.

Asked if the Giants were psyched by the "June swoon" tag, Fox snapped:

"I'm no (censored) psychologist. Did you guys ever consider that your man just threw a one-hitter out there? Don't you guys want to give him any credit? That's all I'm going to tell you."

downed the Pirates, with Brock Davis driving in a pair of runs with a triple and single. Willie Stargell's 20th home run accounted for the only run off Jenkins.

Johnny Bench's 15th home run, but his first since May 25, broke a tie in the eighth inning and lifted the Reds over the Astros.

Johnson's three-run blast capped a four-run outburst against Claude Osteen in the first inning and Browne hit a two-run shot in the third. Monte belted a solo homer in the seventh. Steve Garvey homered for the Dodgers.

Ferguson Jenkins posted his 10th victory as the Cubs

Jean Beliveau Retires

MONTREAL (UPI) — Jean Beliveau moved behind a desk today in the executive offices of the Montreal Canadiens, ending an awards-filled career which spanned 18 National Hockey League seasons.

Beliveau announced his official retirement from active hockey Wednesday and told the Montreal Canadiens, ending an awards-filled career which spanned 18 National Hockey League seasons.

Beliveau played 18 years with the Canadiens, 10 of them as team captain. During his NHL career he scored 507 goals. In his final season, he picked up 76 points on 25 goals and 51 assists.

"It was a hard decision for me to make," Beliveau said. "First of all, I still like the action on the ice, second of all it's because of the hundreds of letters I received asking me to stay another year or two."

Thirdly, because of requests from my teammates to stay. "But I think I took the right decision because at 40, you have to get closer to your family."

It was a great honor for me to be captain for 10 years and to be associated with 10 Stanley Cup winners," he added.

Canadiens' President J. David Molson, who officially announced Beliveau had immediately taken over his duties as vice president and director of corporate relations, said, "This is both a sad and a happy day."

"Sad, because one of the greatest players of all time is retiring from professional hockey but happy because he will continue to be associated with our team for many years to come."

Sam Pollock, general manager of the Canadiens, said: "It is tremendous to know that Jean will be with us and we will continue to do our best to provide Montreal and the province of Quebec with the same great caliber of hockey."

Bostic Hits 82 at Warwick

GRAND BLANC, MICH. — Ulster County Community College golf star, Joe Bostic fell victim yesterday to the lightning-fast greens of the Warwick Hills Golf and Country Club as the second round of the 72-hole National Junior College Athletic Association golf championship was completed. The 147-strong field returns to the Flint Golf Club in Flint, Mich. today for the third round. The fourth round will be played Friday at Warwick.

Bostic, who was in 37th place with a 78 in Tuesday's round at Flint, shot a 41-41-82 on sprawling 7001-yard par 72 home of the Buick Open, a Professional Golfer's Association (PGA) event. He had 39 putts in his round as the closely-cut, rolling greens required a more-than-delicate touch to master. Bostic's 160 total for 36 holes puts him in a tie for 51st place. The Ulster County star birdied the 14th, a par-four, 231-yard hole. After a booming tee shot, Bostic dropped a nine iron just three feet from the pin and hit the putt for his only birdie in 36 holes of play.

Those greens were really fast," said UCCC Athletic Director and golf coach Mike Perry. "Joe and the rest of the field saw their scores rise because of those greens. I think Joe should do much better today at Flint and I look for him to move up in the standings," he concluded.

Perry, in his role as team coach, accompanied Bostic on the trip.

Dan Kelly, the Region XV tournament medalist from Nassau County Community College, is in 25th place as a result of his 79 yesterday and his 77 on Tuesday. Kelly has a 156, Bob Heins, Orange County Community College, hit an 82 to go with his opening round of 80 for a 163 total and holds the 72nd spot.

Jim Hurt, in second place Tuesday, moved into first with a 74. Hurt, of Brevard College, Cocoa, Fla., has a 72-74-146. His teammate, Mike Smith, Tuesday's leader with a 70, dropped back with a 77 for a 147. Four golfers are tied at 149 and two are at 150.

Brevard College of Cocoa, Florida has the two-day team leadership with a 594 total. The Brevard team, paced by Hurt and Smith, shot 301 at Warwick to go with a 293 at Flint on Tuesday. Miami-Dade North, Miami Beach, Fla., is second at 303-298-601.

Odessa College, Odessa, Texas, in second place Tuesday, dropped to third with a 297-314-611. Temple Junior College, Temple, Texas, is fourth with 313-313-626.

Nassau County Community College, Region XV, is 325-336-661, good for 16th place.

Lou Polacastro Hurls Shutout

KINGSTON — Lou Polacastro pitched an eight-hit shutout for the Governor Clinton Market as his team defeated Tony's Pizzeria, 3-0, in the City of Kingston Slow Pitch Softball League.

In the other National Division B game, the Jets nipped Alpine, 3-1.

Arnie Smith homered and Jack Watzka doubled as Polacastro bested Tony Erena. Jay Palvey had two hits for the losers.

Although Jerry Houghtaling hurled a four-hitter, the Jets capitalized on them, scoring three runs in the bottom of the fifth. John Cook doubled and Lew Ganci went two-for-three for the winners. Frank Misasi gained the win, giving up 10 singles.

The linescores:

Alpine ..... 000 010 0-1 10
Jets ..... 000 030 x-3 4

Frank Misasi and Bud Bunt; Jerry Houghtaling and Ken Scherer.

Gov. Clinton Mkt. .... 000 210 0-3 7
Tony's Pizzeria ..... 000 000 0-0 8

Lou Polacastro and Tim Polacco; Bud Lucas Sr.; Tony Erena and Jerry McDonough.

UCCC Netmen Lose

Bill Zeeh and Jerry Lazar, the top tennis players from Ulster County Community College, were eliminated yesterday in competition at the National Junior College Athletic Association tournament in Ocala, Florida.

Zeeh, the No. one Ulster player, was eliminated in the quarter finals of single competition by Willie Paz, of Odessa Junior College in Texas, by 6-0, 6-2 scores. Paz, a native of Bolivia, is the No. one junior player in Bolivia and also is a member of the Bolivia National Davis cup team.

Lazar, the No. two Ulster player, was eliminated in the third round of singles play by John Antonas, of Miami Dade North Junior College in Florida, by scores of 6-1, 6-2.

Zeeh had reached the quarter finals by defeating Keith Suttle, of Schreiner Junior College in Kerrville, Texas, by 6-4, 1-6 and 6-4 scores.

Suttle and John Michie, of Schreiner College, defeated Zeeh and Lazar in doubles competition by 6-2 and 6-3 scores.

In the first round of singles competition, Zeeh defeated Seuzenka Maharaj, of Miami-Dade Junior College North, by 7-5, 6-3 scores. He defeated his second round opponent, Paul Talacka, of Morton Junior College in Illinois, by 8-6, 6-1 scores.

Lazar drew a bye in the first round and defeated Jeff Boone, of Garden City Junior College in Kansas in the second round by 4-6, 6-4 and 6-1 scores.

Californian Leads Seniors

RYE, N.Y. (AP) — A 58-year-old Californian from Santa Barbara, Robert Vaillancourt, took the first-round lead in the U.S. Seniors Golf Association championship Tuesday with a two-under-par 70.

One of the last to finish on a hot, humid day, Vaillancourt put together rounds of 35-35 over the 6,054-yard Apawamis Club course to take a two-stroke lead in the 36-hole, two-day competition.

Tied for second at 82 were David "Spec" Goldman, the defending champion from Dallas, and William Wright of Clementon, N.J.

Goldman, who competed over the par 72, 6,287-yard Round Hill Course, collapsed from the heat after his third shot on the 17th green. After being revived he sank a short putt for a par 4 and finished the round without any apparent ill effects.

Modica Fires Hole-in-One; A Double-Eagle for Hughes

KINGSTON — Two Kingston area golfers fired a couple of superlative shots during the week.

Joe Modica aced the 185-yard, par 3 ninth hole at Woodstock Country Club with a perfect 4-iron shot. The ball landed on the green, took one bounce and trickled into the cup. Playing in the foursome with Modica were Tony Pizzarelli, Jack Lee and Ray DuBois.

George Hughes, the perennial Twaalfskill Club champion, carded a double-eagle 2 on the par 5 seventh hole at Twaalfskill. He was playing with Dr. Douw Meyers in the two-man tournament.

Driver Hurt, Arrested After Broadway Crash

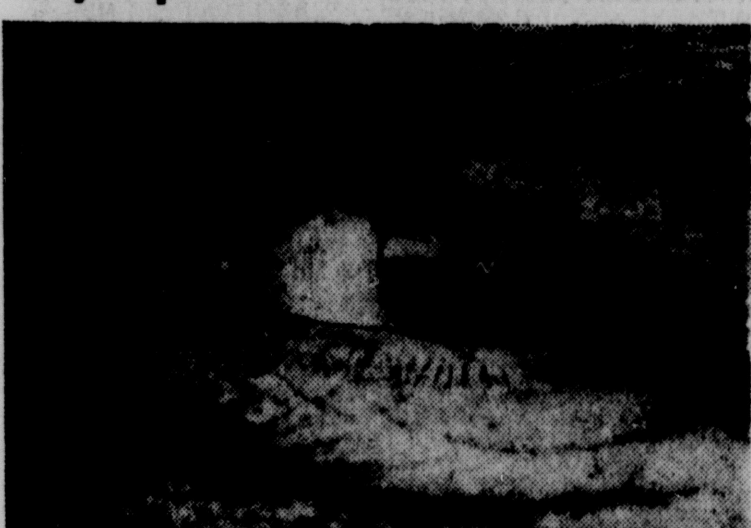

KINGSTON While driving his car along Broadway at East Chester Street early today, Donald C. Waterman, 29, of 354 First Avenue, lost control and the vehicle crashed into a utility pole moving it two feet from its foundation, according to police.

Waterman was later arrested on charges of driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated and operating a car at a speed not reasonable and prudent. He was scheduled to appear before City Judge Hubert A. Richter.

According to police, Waterman backed his car after hitting the pole and some distance away from the vehicle again went out of control and struck a guard rail.

Waterman was treated at Kingston Hospital for a laceration of the face near his left eye and possible injury of the left arm.

Can You Recognize the Symptoms of Addiction?

There are a number of tell-tale symptoms of drug addiction; a euphoria, constricted pupils, constantly runny nose, irrational behavior, to name a few. "What You Can Do About Dangerous Drugs," a special booklet offered through this newspaper, brings all the facts together about the "hard" drugs—and what they can do to you. It also tells you how the addict—or any problem drug user—can be helped. The booklet is MUST reading for every parent and teenager. Send for your copy today—only $1.

Mysterious Wildlife Plague Spreads in Florida's Waters

LAKE APOPKA, Fla. (AP) — A mysterious wildlife plague is spreading through some of central Florida's fresh waters, killing thousands of fish and dozens of birds. Sixteen alligators also have died.

For the first time Tuesday, game wardens reported finding the bodies of egrets, crows and seagulls as well as extensive shad and catfish kills.

Officials said the path of wildlife destruction which began a month ago was edging northward from lake Apopka through about seven miles of algae-choked canals to Lake Dora.

Game and Fresh Water Fish Commissioner Dr. Earle Frye

12 Men, Woman Are Found Dead In Vacant Lot

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The bodies of 12 men and a woman, all shot between the eyes, have been found buried in a vacant lot next to a movie house in a small town in northern Mexico, the newspaper El Sol reported today.

The report said the bodies were found in Escandon, near Juarez, on land belonging to Mayor Raimundo Palacios' brother Ricardo.

El Sol in a dispatch from Escandon said the mayor told it: His brother sent several workers to start digging the foundations of a building he planned. The shovel of one of the men hit something with a dull thud, and the laborer found it was a human head.

The other workers gathered around and started digging. They turned up another 12 bodies, all within a radius of about 50 yards.

The clothes on the bodies had not rotted, indicating that they had been buried recently.

Zoning Board In Marblertown Okays Requests

STONE RIDGE The Town of Marblertown Zoning Board of Appeals recently approved four requests, it was noted at Tuesday's Town Board meeting.

Joseph Karaffa received approval for 30 additional campsites off Woodland Road, bringing to 75 the total number of sites there. Miss Marilyn Butterfield received approval to operate an antique shop on Route 213. A request by James Terwilliger to operate an antique store at Eagle's Nest on Route 209 was approved as was a request by Ralph Bellinger to open an antique shop on Lucas Turnpike.

Supervisor Kenneth Smith noted that the fifth and last automatic voting machine ordered by the town has been received. The old voting machines were given to the New Paltz Central School District for educational purposes.

A public hearing on a minor change in the town's zoning ordinance will be held next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Legion Hall. The second and final informational meeting before the public referendum on retention of the town's three assessors will be held at 8 p.m.

Your Horoscope

Friday, June 11

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is a day and evening to keep your mind preoccupied with business and other practical matters. Do nothing to upset or disappoint anyone of whom you are fond, since much difficulty could quickly follow and cause trouble with those close to you.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Show higher-ups that you carry through with obligations assigned to you in a most conscientious way. Do nothing that can jeopardize present security you enjoy. Take a breather in p.m. Favorable for love.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Seek out new system that can bring creative skills to the fore, give you added benefits. A new friend can open the door to greater opportunity for you just at this time. Needed information can be forthcoming.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Getting that work done in a most efficient way makes you worry-free for the weekend, so get busy early in a.m. A new attitude is required for more harmony with mate. Avoid one who is a troublemaker.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Know what it is that is expected of you by partners who can be rather sketchy in communicating, but good friend gives right ideas later. Use diplomacy with one who opposes you and come to a fine understanding. Don't be temperamental.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You need to think in a more practical vein if you are to get desired results. Improve conditions around you. Co-workers approve of ideas you have that are mutually beneficial.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You can enjoy the amusements you like provided you steer clear of superficial individuals. Don't take any needless risks, either. You have been very stingy with affection and mate is petulant. Make amends now.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You had better first consult with kin about something important you want to do or you could have a big disagreement later on. Do not confide in others or your plans might go awry.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Listen to what a good friend has to suggest before you keep vital appointments so that you have all the fine points well in mind. Do errands early and get them out of the way quickly. Write personal letters.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You are able to handle good investments well with the okay from higher-ups. Putting that budget to work that you have been considering is wise. Take time for creative activities in the evening.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Being attractive toward one from whom you want favors gets right results in a.m. A social affair can bring some personal aim closer to you than you had thought possible. Take that chip off your shoulder.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Study every angle carefully and you know just how to make the little changes necessary for conditions around you to be more as you want them. Get data from experts needed for success of a project.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You are now able to take your problems to a clever friend who will show you exactly how to solve them. Social hobnobbing later will bring you just the right contacts. Use that fine smile of yours.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one of those practical people who will always want to feel secure in life, so make certain to plan education along lines that will fit him or her for work connected with property management, real estate, big business, and the like. The field of selling is also very good here. Some musical instruction is fine, if only as food for the soul and relaxation. A good family man or woman and much happiness through marriage.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU! Carroll Righter's Individual Forecast for your sign for July is now ready. For your copy send your birthdate and $1 to Carroll Righter Forecast, The Daily Freeman, Box 629, Hollywood, Calif. 90028.

WHY WE SAY

LUMBER

PEOPLE: A people known as the Lombards started this word. They originally were pawnbrokers and in their storerooms were many wooden objects. Since the rooms were called Lombard rooms, gradually their possessions were called lumber.

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

HARD LESSON: (Q.) There are four girls I like. They once liked me, too. But now they won't speak to me. I think it may be because of another girl I got to be sort of friends with. She did two things. First, she swears, and I picked the habit up from her. Second, she told me some pretty bad things about all my friends.

I tried to find out if what she said was true. I would talk to one of my friends about another one. And then I would go to another and talk about someone else. All of a sudden none of them would talk to me.

Do you think it is the swearing, or the talking, or something else? I want my friends back. I feel worse every day.

—All Alone in Oklahoma.

(A.) It's pretty sure that the talking was your main crime, but the swearing didn't help. It will take time, and good behavior, on your part to win your friends back. When they are convinced you have learned your lesson, they'll accept you again.

In the meantime, be friendly and cheerful when you see them, and do not talk about them behind their backs—to anyone. Also, stay strictly away from the girl with the nasty tongue.

SHORTS: (Q.) This spring some of the girls wore shorts to school. My mother wouldn't let me. She told me school was no place for shorts. Our school doesn't have a dress code and a girl can wear what she wants. What do you think about me wearing shorts next fall if the other girls do?—Same Old Dresses in Missouri.

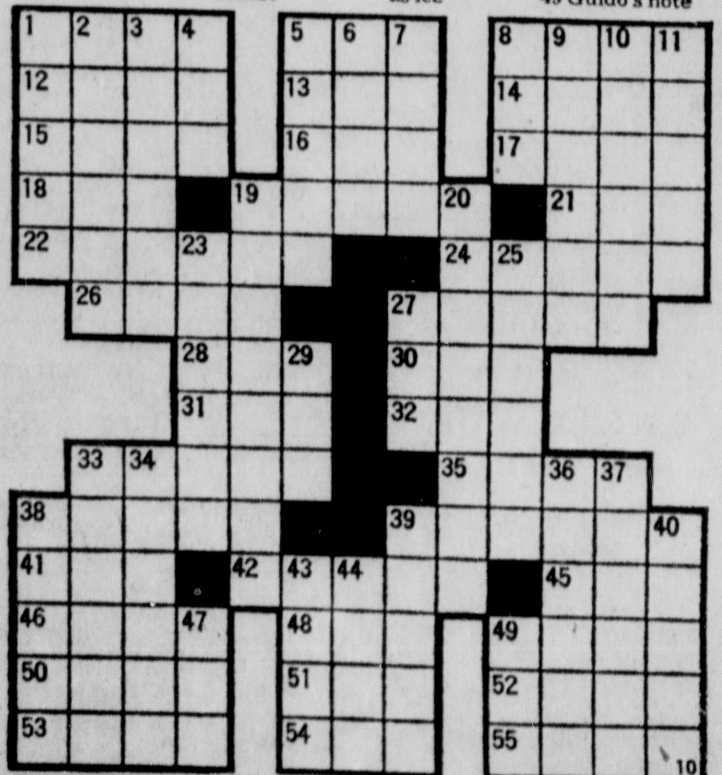

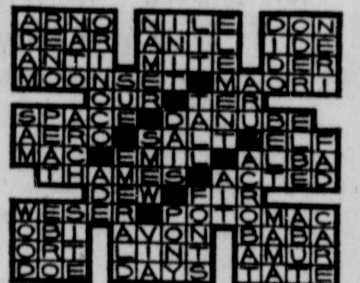

(A.) There are a lot of ifs in what I am going to say: If the girls in your school are wearing shorts, and if this is not objectionable to the school authorities, and if your shorts are not too short, and if your legs are nice, and if you can persuade your mother that it is not in bad taste, then fine.

Humphrey Disavows Kennedy Attack on Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, invoking his role as titular Democratic Party leader, has disavowed Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's charge that President Nixon's Vietnam policy is politically motivated.

The Minnesota senator said Wednesday he wanted to make clear to Republican National Chairman Robert J. Dole the Democratic party and its leaders are not questioning the President's motives in challenging his policy.

"I happen to believe the President does want peace," said Humphrey, Democratic nominee for the White House in 1968. "He is proceeding more slowly than I would . . .

"I'm not accusing the President of being cynical, I'm not accusing the President of being partisan about the war."

Kennedy did both, in a speech Monday night to lawyers lobbying for a Dec. 31 deadline for U.S. withdrawal from South Vietnam.

The White House entered a political charge of its own regarding a war issue Wednesday when it attacked statements by former Secretary of Defense Clark Clifford.

Clifford, who headed the Pentagon under the Democratic Johnson administration, told the lawyers Tuesday he had reason to believe setting a date for the end of U.S. involvement in Indochina would insure the immediate release of American POWs.

Presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said "there may be an attempt to exploit the prisoners of war for domestic political purposes."

Asked if he had Clifford in mind, Ziegler replied: "I think my remarks would relate to raising false hopes, yes."

Secretary of State William P. Rogers, just back Wednesday from Paris where the peace talks are being held, described as "mere propaganda" reports that the North Vietnamese have grown more flexible on the prisoner issue.

"The fact of the matter is that there is no change in their basic position," he said. "Talking to people not involved in the negotiations they want to create the impression that they are ready to make a deal. If they are interested in changing their position, they can talk to Ambassador David Bruce . . . all they have to do is pick up the telephone."

Replying to Kennedy, Dole charged "Some members of the other party are willing to exceed the bounds of partisanship, reason and common decency in their efforts to downgrade the President and advance their own personal interests."

"It is the height of irresponsibility and blind personal ambition for members of the other party to attack President Nixon as they have done in recent days," he said.

Dole named Kennedy only after Humphrey insisted that he identify the Democrat or Democrats he was talking about.

Humphrey said later that he objected to Dole's blanket references to leaders and spokesmen of the Democratic Party.

"I thought it was time he understood that the Democratic party and its leadership was not trying to make a partisan issue out of Vietnam," he said in an interview. "I do not contest the President's sincerity for peace."

The Democratic Policy Council, which Humphrey heads, had endorsed legislation due for a vote next Wednesday to enforce a Dec. 31 military withdrawal deadline. Nixon has opposed any such deadline.

Kennedy entered the Senate chamber while Humphrey was speaking, but remained silent.

Afterwards, the Massachusetts Democrat said he stood on his Monday night speech.

SADAT MEETS WITH TROOPS — Egyptian President Anwar Sadat (L) on a two-day visit along the Suez Canal, meets with Egyptian troops at one point along the front lines. According to the semi-official Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram, Sadat will tell the nation that unless a peaceful solution to the Middle East crisis is found by the end of this year war will be inevitable. ## Senate on Addicts — Treat, Not Punish WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has told the military to identify and treat drug addicts in uniform, not punish them.

Without a dissenting vote, the Senate Wednesday amended the draft-extension bill to require treatment and rehabilitation centers and to encourage servicemen to use them without fear of punishment.

Sen. Harold E. Hughes, D-Iowa, sponsor of the proposal, charged the military has attempted to sweep the problem under the rug by dishonorably discharging 11,000 of 16,000 identified addicts.

Hughes said "crippling qualifications" largely neutralized the amnesty program, however.

Accusing military leaders of ignoring drug use warning signs, Hughes pointed to a Defense Department document issued last summer which he said "confidently" proclaimed a low incidence of drug abuse.

"Yet only two months before . . . a young major was conducting a survey at Cam Rahn Bay which showed that 17.4 per cent of the troops then leaving Vietnam admitted having used opium," the senator said. "Furthermore, most of these said they had picked up the habit while in Vietnam."

Control of Oki Goes to Japan

PARIS (UPI)—The United States and Japan approved a treaty Wednesday under which Japan will resume control over Okinawa, an island which U.S. troops seized in bloody fighting in 1945 and turned into America's largest nuclear base in the Pacific.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Japanese Foreign Minister Kiichi Aichi told the newsmen after a three-hour meeting they have completed the final draft of the pact and will sign it simultaneously on June 17 in Washington and Tokyo.

Under the eight-point treaty, the United States will pull out its nuclear arsenal and most military hardware from the 30 bases it has built on the island by the time Japan takes over again. Under a basic accord reached by President Nixon and Japanese Prime Minister Eisaku Sato in June, 1969, Japanese sovereignty over Okinawa and nuclear warheads stockpiled there.

Approval of the text of the treaty topped 18 months of bargaining over each clause. Diplomatic officials said the treaty is likely to be criticized in both Washington and Tokyo, but that ratification was a foregone conclusion.

Not all the bases will be handed over to the Japanese when the final date for the take-over is set. Some U. S. bases will remain on the island, but there will no longer be warheads stockpiled there.

Highland Voters Say 'No'

HIGHLAND — The lone proposal to pass not to exceed $3,000. It barely passed, by a vote of 442-437.

The budget for 1971-72 failed on a permanent surface for the Cooperative Educational Services by an overwhelming vote of 177-173.

The total proposed budget was $3,314,993.65, an increase of $587,176.05 over the 1970-71 budget.

'Yes' in New Paltz

NEW PALTZ — A $287,429.35 increase over 1970-71.

A proposal to purchase three 60 passenger buses at a cost of about $36,000 passed by a vote of 405-338. The buses will be used for additional runs or to retire old buses.

The proposal to spend an extra $150,000 on high school athletic fields to complete their construction failed by a vote of 297-501, despite support from a number of prominent area residents, including Chairman of the Ulster County Legislature and New Paltz resident Peter J. Savago.

Mercy Airlift In Pakistan Fights Cholera

CALCUTTA (UPI) — More British air force jets landed today laden with doctors, nurses and millions of doses of anti-cholera vaccine in the struggle to keep the disease from spreading among the five million refugees from the war in East Pakistan.

An international mercy airlift brought another half-million doses of the vaccine along with other medical and relief supplies Wednesday.

Cholera has taken at least 4,000 lives so far according to government spokesmen.

As the medical supplies arrived at Dum Dum Airport, city officials complained they had insufficient amounts of the vaccine to carry out an emergency inoculation program. Federal health officials said it was enough.

Officials said red tape and transportation difficulties brought fears the vaccine would deteriorate from the heat and an English language newspaper charged Wednesday that government incompetence and inefficiency were contributing to the delays.
